CITY TO LEASE CLOVER POINT FOR PARK AREA

Federal Authorities Agreeable to Long Term Lease at Nominal Rental

Development of Site as Extension of Beacon Hill Park Is Suggested

The leasing of Clover Point, with many acres of waterfront property, formerly used by the Dominion authorities as a rifle range, by the city at a nominal rental for park purposes is the object of negotiations virtually completed at the City Hall to-day.

Acting on behalf of the city, Mayor J. C. Pendray this morning met engineer officers from Work Point Barracks, the latter acting under the direction of Brigadier-General J. M. Ross, in command of Military District 11, and representing the Federal Department of Militia and Defence in the negotiations opened some time ago.

The conference to-day settled the details of the arrangement, subject to official ratification by letter, under which the city will secure the power of control over the area, comprising a headland of virgin land which extends out into the water near the foot of Moss Street. The Federal authorities have declared their willingness to lease the property to the city for $1 a year for an extended term, subject to certain rights held in reserve.

The reserve includes an undertaking by the city to so deal with the ground that its use as a rifle range in times of national emergency would not be impaired. The city would also preserve the spirit of the agreement of the Federal authorities and the Victoria Radio Club, which has been given the use of a small building on the grounds. Apart from the reservations the city would be given a free hand to develop the area for park purposes, as an extension of Beacon Hill Park.

JUNIOR CHAMBER'S WORK

Credit for the successful issue of the city's plans in no small measure was given by Mayor Pendray to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, after to-day's conference. The Junior Chamber independently supported the request for the use of the grounds.

The city's plan, stated the Mayor, included a general scheme in which the grounds would be leveled and cleaned up for public use for park purposes. With control over the land the city will put an end to the dumping that has taken place on the beach line, and gradually bring the area under control as an extension of the Beacon Hill Park project. Rifle firing at the site is at an end, Heal's Range now being in general use by order of the Federal authorities.

Clover Point is widely used by residents adjacent to the area, as well as serving as a permanent magnet for tourists, affording an unique view of the Straits. Beaches on both sides of the headland extend with sand and shale, while the ground itself is open common in grass. The timeworn fences now bounding the property will likely be removed, and the grounds improved from time to time.

FRENCH MINISTER GREETED AT TORONTO

M. Bokaowski, R.E. Byrd and Others Fly There From Buffalo and New York

Toronto, Aug. 25.—A monoplane with Commander Richard E. Byrd and Maurice Bokanowski, French Minister of Aviation, on board, landed at Leaside, near here, at 9.05 a.m. to-day, after a flight from Buffalo. The plane had stayed at Buffalo overnight after a flight from New York. The trip to-day was made in forty minutes under ideal weather conditions. A crowd began to assemble at the Leaside airport three hours before the plane left Buffalo, and it was greeted by about 2,000 persons.

The plane is a Ford-Stout machine. Harry Brooks was the pilot, and Carl Wenzel came as mechanic, while besides M. Bokanowski and Commander Byrd, the plane carried D. Wiltehire of the Ford Company of Canada and William B. Stout, its designer. Carl Parsons, representing Premier King, and T. Cowley, comptroller of civic aviation, greeted the visitors, and a representative of the French consulate at Montreal was also on hand.

WIND CAUSED DELAY

A high wind, apparently the tail end of a hurricane that had whipped the eastern seaboard for two days, last night forced the plane to stop at Buffalo overnight.

M. Bokanowski was to have been the guest of honor at an Ontario Government dinner in honor of the Canadian Bar Association convention delegates here last night.

CONFERENCE WILL BE OF PRACTICAL VALUE

Pacific Trade Council President Announces Subjects to be Discussed

Topics For Benefit of Every Branch of Foreign Trade

Announcement by William Pigott, president of the Pacific Foreign Trades Council, of topics to be covered at the fifth annual convention of the Pacific Trade Council, indicate that the meeting in Victoria, September 15, 16 and 17, is to be of very practical value to the business men who attend.

Wayne E. Butterbaugh, director of traffic management, La Salle Extension University, Chicago, has been secured to carry the subject of "Ways of regaining, for Pacific ports, the traffic between the Far East and United States, that in recent years has been diverted to Atlantic ports."

Irving E. Vining, president of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, will talk on the "Application of American Statesmanship in Interpreting International Problems."

The subject of "Commercial Air Service," carried by W. P. McCracken, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, Washington, D.C., will be especially opportune at a time when Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is also in the Northwest to arouse interest in this modern method of transportation.

Other topics, for which speakers will shortly be announced, are "Barriers to Export Trade of the Pacific," "Foreign Credit Insurance," "Protecting the Importer in Customs Matters," "Trading in Wheat Futures," "Developing Foreign Trade Through Travel," "Value of Imports in Developing Our Foreign Trade," "Handicaps to Pacific Shipping Interests," "Far East Finance and General Trade Conditions" and "Foreign Markets for Forest Products."

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Mr. Pigott states that the ambition of the programme committee is to provide topics for the benefit of every branch of foreign trade, inasmuch as this is the only opportunity for the various kinds of business of the Pacific Coast to meet in the common interest of foreign trade.

The Trade Adviser Service has been established to further aid this purpose. This will be conducted by trade commissioners who have been called in by the United States Department of Com-

SEARCH FOR MISSING FLIERS IS FUTILE

No Trace of Missing California-Honolulu Aviators Found

Honolulu, Aug. 25.—Rumors that the lost Dole air racers had been found were heard again in Honolulu yesterday after such reports had been inactive for some days. As fast as the rumors could be checked they were found to be apparently groundless.

The United States army aviators and Martin Jensen, pilot of the Aloha, who flew to the Island of Hawaii Tuesday to investigate reports of flares seen there on the side of Mount Mauna Kea, returned yesterday. They found nothing to indicate the presence there of any of the fliers. They said, however, that fog had interfered badly with observation. They also were told of flares said to have been seen again last night on the mountainside. There was no explanation of these.

The three aeroplanes, which left Oakland, Cal., for Honolulu last week, were the Golden Eagle, the Miss Doran and the Dallas Spirit, with a total of six men and one young woman, Miss Mildred Doran, twenty-two-year-old school teacher of Flint, Mich., aboard.

COURTNEY PLANE UNABLE TO RISE

Airmen Unable to Start From England For Azores Island

Southampton, Aug. 25.—Capt. F. T. Courtney and his crew made another unsuccessful attempt to start from here for the Azores on their transatlantic flight this evening. Their heavily loaded flying boat, a Dormier-Napier diplane named the Whale, refused to leave the water.

PASSENGER DISAPPOINTED

Last evening Capt. Courtney and his crew made three unsuccessful attempts to hop off for New York by way of the Azores. Each time the machine failed to rise owing to the heavy load it was carrying.

Capt. Courtney then decided to jettison a passenger he had proposed to carry and reduce the plane's petrol supply.

PAID £1,500

The identity of the passenger was not announced, but it is learned he is a Canadian millionaire, who had paid £1,500 for the privilege of accompanying Courtney.

129 DEATHS IN JAPANESE NAVY CRASHES

Two Destroyers Struck by Cruisers Moving at Night Without Lights

One Vessel Sank in Fifteen Minutes; Other Craft Was Towed to Port

Tokio, Aug. 25.—Four Japanese warships cruising through the darkness with lights extinguished were involved in two collisions last night which may have cost 129 lives, according to dispatches from the Maizuru naval station. In both instances destroyers were struck by cruisers which were practicing night defence moves against destroyers.

The cruiser Jintsu struck the destroyer Warabi, which sank in fifteen minutes with a loss of 102 members of her crew, it is feared. The cruiser Naka collided with the destroyer Ashi, twenty-seven men being reported killed, although the Ashi was able to reach port in tow.

PRINCE ABOARD CRUISER

Prince Hiroyoshi Fushimi, son of Vice-Admiral Prince Hiro Fushimi, a lieutenant in the navy, was aboard the cruiser Naka when the collision occurred, but was not hurt.

Maizuru is a naval station of Central Japan, located on Wakasa Bay, an arm of the Sea of Japan.

The Warabi, a second-class destroyer of 850 tons, was built under the 1920 naval programme and was launched in September, 1921.

Last night's disaster was the second suffered by the Japanese navy this month. On August 1 thirty-eight men were killed and forty-seven injured when a mine exploded on the deck of the minelayer Tokiwa.

Three Deaths in Nova Scotia Storm

Digby, N.S., Aug. 25.—Warren Oesinger, his son Kenneth and Stafford Rice are believed to have been lost as a result of last night's storm, one of the worst that ever swept western Nova Scotia. The Oesingers were on the fishing grounds at low water yesterday afternoon when the storm broke and made a gallant attempt to reach shore, but were swamped by heavy seas. The other supposed fatality was seen in the disappearance of the boat operated by Stafford Rice.

PRAIRIE JOURNEY MADE BY AIRMAN

T. Shields Able to Use Only His Left Hand on High River-Winnipeg Flight

High River, Alta., Aug. 25.—Traveling under a severe handicap, through an injury to his right hand, Flying Officer Thomas Shields of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Winnipeg, commenced a return non-stop flight from the High River air station to Winnipeg at 7 a.m. to-day. He is flying alone.

HAND INJURED

During his stay at High River, Flying Officer Shields injured his hand, and during the present flight he is operating the controls of his plane with his left hand.

The air distance from High River station to Winnipeg is approximately 932 miles. Flying Officer Shields is piloting a Huff-Deland plane equipped with a Wright Whirlwind motor. The machine was brought to the High River station to be tested in mountain flying.

SET RECORD

He made the trip last week from Winnipeg to High River in eight hours and twenty minutes, making a new Canadian record.

NOT SEEN FROM TOWNS

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Although seven hours have elapsed since Flying Officer Thomas Shields left High River, Alberta, on a flight to Winnipeg, without any word of his progress, local aviation officials expressed no concern and are making preparations to welcome the aviator at the flying field here around 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Shields proposed to follow the main railway line to Winnipeg and officers here expressed the opinion he might have passed over several western towns without being observed. The machine carried sufficient fuel for a ten-hour cruise.

BRITISH-JAPANESE NAVAL PACT NOW REPORTED TO EXIST

U.S. Government Said to Have Been Informed Understanding Was Reached

Agreement Declared Result of Failure of Recent Conference at Geneva

Washington, Aug. 25—The Washington Post says word has reached the State Department officials from "trustworthy sources" that Great Britain and Japan came to a mutually satisfactory secret understanding regarding future naval supremacy when it finally became apparent the United States would not accept the British programme at the recent Three-Power Naval Conference at Geneva.

The gist of the secret understanding has not been divulged, the newspaper adds, declaring it is doubtful if much definite information on its contents is available to the officials of the United States Government.

The newspaper story also says the secret understanding is being discussed behind closed doors by officials here with a view to weighing possible consequences.

OLD ALLIANCE STUDIED

Apparently the advance discussions between the British and Japanese representatives, according to the newspaper, have had reference to revising the Anglo-Japanese Alliance of 1911.

This alliance was terminated at the Washington Naval Conference of 1921-22 and a four-power pact with Great Britain, Japan, France and the United States as signatory powers regarding insular possessions and dominions in the Pacific was promulgated under the leadership of the United States delegation headed by Charles E. Hughes, former Secretary of State.

OFFICIALS SPEED PENSION SCHEME

Aged People Given Application Forms Under New Scheme Here

Losing no time in implementing the old-age pension agreement between British Columbia and the Dominion Governments, the provincial authorities through the Workmen's Compensation Board are arranging for the receipt of formal pension applications.

The board, which will administer the pension scheme here, is sending out to aged people application forms on which they will be required to give full details of their age, time of residence in British Columbia and other necessary information. The board will thus have full information about all applicants when the time for the first payment of pensions is fixed.

The scheme will be ready to go into actual operation as soon as the Federal Government approves a formal order-in-council ratifying the new pension agreement negotiated here recently by Hon. Peter Heenan and Hon. A. M. Manson, Federal and Provincial Ministers of Labor. This will be done during the next few weeks, following Mr. Heenan's return to Ottawa.

HON. PETER HEENAN VISITS EDMONTON

Federal Minister Voices Gratification at Progress of Old Age Pensions

Edmonton, Aug. 25.—"I have been encouraged to hear that nearly all of the Provinces will soon participate in the old age pension scheme," said Hon. Peter Heenan, Federal Minister of Labor, in an interview here this morning.

Mr. Heenan arrived from the Coast last night and will attend the remaining sessions of the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress here.

Mr. Heenan sees in the old age pension scheme a way in which the provinces will reduce the burdens carried through the old people's homes, as the revenues will now benefit indirectly from the Federal treasury in all provinces where the act is effective.

"The Federal Government imposes no restrictions on the payment of pensions to old folks in such institutions," the Minister said. In fact, where the Act thus giving them a greater sense of independence and a feeling that they can, to some extent, pay their way."

AIR MAIL SERVICES SOON BETWEEN CANADA AND U.S.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—"The general question of air mail service will be discussed at Geneva," Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General, said to-day when his attention was drawn to a dispatch from Washington forecasting the establishment of this method of handling mail between Canada and the United States.

As a result of the general exchange of views at the transit conference at Geneva, it would naturally follow that the establishment of air mail services between Canada and the United States would be the subject of discussion between the delegates, said the Postmaster-General.

Canada, Mr. Veniot predicted, would be a central point for air services because of its geographical position.

Nothing practical would be undertaken by Canada until after the conference at Geneva, he said.

The Canadian representative there is L. J. Gaboury, Deputy Postmaster-General.

Women's Building Holds Attention With Wonderful Display

Nearly eight thousand persons paid admission to the Provincial Exhibition yesterday making the Citizens' Day attendance once of the best experienced by the British Columbia Agricultural Association. In addition, vast numbers of children were admitted free of charge. A feature of the attendance was the large crowds experienced throughout the evening, gatekeepers reporting that most of the afternoon patrons stayed at the exhibition until late in the evening.

The crowd was in a happy mood throughout the day, and enjoyed all the forms of amusement provided for their entertainment. The Stampede in the Horse Show Building was patronized to capacity. The audience cheered the displays of horsemanship, laughed at the antics of the recalcitrant mule in its successful determination not to be ridden and was amazed at the broncho riding by Red Wall's troupe of cowboys and cowgirls. In the Main Building large numbers of visitors were at all times clustered around the exhibits, while the Women's Building, the Manufacturers' Building and the Automobile Show were congested with visitors.

New Westminster, Aug. 25.—The people of New Westminster to-day are choosing a member to represent them in the Legislature of British Columbia.

With both the Liberals and Conservatives making every effort to get out the vote, a record poll is expected, there being 5,891 on the voters' list. Many cars are being used to bring voters to the polling booths.

The vote up till early afternoon was described as heavy.

All roads lead to the Armories, where all of the twenty polling booths are located.

The candidates are Mayor A. Wells Gray, Liberal, and Charles A. Welsh, Conservative.

The polls, which opened at 8 a.m., will close at 7 p.m.

MEETING LAST NIGHT

The last evening before the polling to-day was featured by a rally in the Edison Theatre in support of Mayor Gray, Liberal candidate. Addresses were delivered by Premier J. D. MacLean, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands; Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works; Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, M.P.P., and the candidate.

Due to the excellent financial position of British Columbia, there would be a gradual reduction in taxation, Premier MacLean said.

"Our sinking funds are so well reinvested they show $1,000,000 to the good," he stated.

Dr. Sutherland reviewed the progress of the Province under the Liberal administration.

TO INCREASE TRADE

Mayor Gray spoke of the plans for port development at New Westminster, including a cold storage plant and new terminal facilities.

Mrs. Smith paid a high tribute to Mayor Gray, stating he was well qualified to fill the position as member for the Royal City.

"The Tory policy is one of destruction instead of construction, and that is why I am on the Liberal platform," declared the Vancouver member.

Mrs. Smith pointed out how $650,000 had been distributed last year in mothers' pensions.

"Although we complain of taxes, still we would not want to do without these benefits," she said.

Alderman F. J. Hume was chairman of the meeting.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, provincial Conservative leader, left for Victoria on this morning's boat from Vancouver.

KEEN COMPETITION FEATURES REGATTA

Fine Programme of Land and Water Events Seen at Brentwood Bay

The second annual regatta, held at Brentwood Bay yesterday, was a decided success. The officers of the day under the direction of President George Grant, had made every preparation and the events, which were eagerly contested, were run off in good order much to the enjoyment of the crowds on shore and in the boats on the bay.

A long-distance rowing race, the course being laid around Skull Island, was an additional event for this year and had a large number of entries. In the Saanich Board of Trade race the secretary, J. E. Sladen, proved too strong for the president, Rev. M. Bruce. The tilting contest and the greasy pole provided plenty of fun for the spectators.

In the evening the prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. J. D. MacLean, wife of the Premier, and a most enjoyable dance with Neary's orchestra in attendance brought to a close a most enjoyable day. The results were as follows:

Boys, swimming, 8 years and under, 25 yards—1, John MacLean; 2, Jack Daniels.

Girls, swimming, 9 years to 12 years—1, Gladys Wilbore; 2, Marguerite Sandiland.

Boys, swimming, 9 years to 12 years—1, Ian Strang; 2, Bob May.

METCHOSIN FARMERS CONSIDER PROBLEMS

Luxton, Aug. 24.—The directors of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute met in the Luxton Hall last night, those present being the president, E. E. Whitney-Griffiths; A. E. Wale, N. B. Pollock, H. G. Pierce, A. Hankin and the corresponding-secretary, Mrs. C. Brown.

In the course of business a report was given by the president regarding complaints made at a former meeting of the directors in connection with insanitary conditions of Chinese piggeries in the districts covered by the institute, namely, at Langford and Parson's Bridge. The owners of the piggeries at Langford acted on the orders issued by the Provincial Health Inspector and made the necessary repairs to correct conditions, but the authorities are experiencing trouble with the owner of the piggeries at Parson's Bridge, who, up to the present time, has ignored the instructions given to correct conditions, which according to the report of the Provincial Board of Health, if allowed to continue will prove a menace to the health of nearby residents. The matter was followed up by the directors of the institute, and the Hon. Dr. J. D. MacLean, and the Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, were advised of the situation.

A letter was also received by the board from a resident of the Metchosin district in connection with the disregarding of a notice on the gate of private property, "Private road; no thoroughfare," by visitors from Victoria and neighboring districts desiring to reach the beach at Witty's Lagoon, and asking consideration of the directors in the matter. The directors were notified of this in the hope that something will be done towards opening a road to the beach for use of the public. It was pointed out at the meeting that Witty's Lagoon was one of the most popular beaches near Victoria, and the directors will look into the matter and see what can be done.

A donation of $25 from Mr. Graham-Graham of Hatley Park on behalf of Mrs. J. Dunsmuir towards the expenses of the Fall fair to be held at Luxton August 31 was reported, also a donation of $5 from N. B. Pollock. The following committees were appointed in connection with the fair: Flower section, H. G. Pierce and A. E. Wale; vegetable section, C. E. Kelly, nurse in charge of the Esquimalt rural nursing service; outside construction, Major T. Godfrey; goat section, R. S. Peacock, W. H. Bosworth and F Goodsell.

ARTICLE BY LATE PREMIER PRINTED

Statement on B.C. Mining Written by Mr. Oliver Published in Toronto Globe

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Prominent financial men and Cabinet Ministers this morning reviewed in special mining supplements of The Toronto Globe and The Toronto Mail and Empire issued in connection with the holding of the Empire Mining Congress the mineral development of Canada, and one of the feature articles in The Globe appears under the name of the late Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia. It probably comprises his last newspaper copy penned in praise of his Province. The article by Mr. Oliver runs into 1,500 words and deals with the growth of British Columbia's mining industry. The opening paragraph runs:

"The mining industry in British Columbia has never been in a more flourishing condition than at present, and with new mineral areas being rapidly opened up and development work receiving impetus in the older mineral producing sections, the Province is attracting the growing attention of capital from all sections of the world."

London, Aug. 25.—One hundred and twenty-nine lives are feared to have been lost in two collisions of warships during manoeuvres off the Japanese naval port of Maizuru last night, says a Tokio dispatch to Reuter's. One destroyer sank and another was damaged.

News received by the Navy Department at Tokio, the dispatch adds, was that the cruiser Jintzu collided with the destroyer Warabi in the darkness.

The destroyer sank in fifteen minutes with the loss of ninety men and petty officers and twelve officers, there being only twenty-two survivors of the whole ship's company. The Jintzu's bow was badly damaged and the battle cruiser Kongo had to tow her into port.

About the same time the cruiser Naka collided with the destroyer Ashi, cutting through her afterpart, which resulted in the loss of twenty-seven other men. The Naka was not seriously damaged and proceeded to port after temporary repairs, but the Ashi was towed in by the cruiser Abukuma.

A navy spokesman, describing the ing completed its main manoeuvres off disaster, stated the combined fleet, hav- the Bungo Strait—during which the explosion aboard the minelayer Tokiwa occurred on August 1—was returning to its base at Maizuru and practicing measures for protection against night attack by destroyers.

MOVED WITHOUT LIGHTS

The night was moonless and the warships, with all lights extinguished, were ploughing through the inky blackness at full speed when the destroyer flotilla launched an "attack." The Warabi and Ashi apparently were attempting to cut in across the bows of the oncoming cruisers, which were unable to change their course in time to avoid collision.

A search for missing men was being carried out to-day, but there was little hope of any rescues.

WOMEN'S WORK

The Women's Building is this year one of the chief centres of interest.

The woolen display and spinning demonstration organized by Mrs. Dennis Harris and Miss Macpherson features wool and completed garments made from wool supplied by the Prince of Wales from his Alberta ranch. There is also a remarkable display of articles made from yarn spun from the coat of Angora rabbits.

The three wheels shown this year spin steadily, under expert operation, and vie in interest with the shawls and other finished products shown.

There is a larger children's section than has previously been seen at the Willows, including dressed dolls, cushions, plain sewing and some remarkable fine needlework.

Music is provided every afternoon and evening through the courtesy of David Spencer Limited, who have in operation one of the latest types of Orthophonic.

The bottled fruits shown are of far higher type than usual, due in part to replacing collections with single entries. This has proved popular, and has increased the number of contestants.

COLWOOD TRIUMPH

The institute competition is a feature of this building, and the achievement of the Colwood Institute in winning the cup in two consecutive years has set a new record. The cup is to become the property of any institute winning it three times consecutively, and this fact is expected to produce keen competition next year.

An analysis of the points awarded show some interesting facts in this institute competition. Colwood won with 243½ points, awarded by five independent judges of specialties. Victoria came second with 226½ of the possible 300 points allowed. Victoria Institute led with preserved fruit, meat and fish, bottled vegetables and candy tied in knitting, and lost ground with jams and jellies, pickles, home cooking, plain and fancy sewing, crochet, arts and crafts and arrangement.

Royal Oak Women's Institute was beaten out of third place by one point by the new comer to the competition. Luxton and Happy Valley. After leading strongly in the domestic arts, they were overwhelmed by the resources in unexhibited needlework available to the Luxton and Happy Valley Institute. "Royal Oak Institute are good sports, they have stayed by us for four years, and three years ago came within one point of winning first place" remarked Mrs. H. Crocker, director in charge.

SKILLED LADIES

There is a wonderful collection of entries by elderly ladies, some of the best items in the show being made by women above seventy-five years of age. These include gorgeous patchwork quilts, handsome rugs and dainty needlework.

NOVEL PROCEDURE

An unusual event in the exhibition was the cancellation of the filet lace competition and the prizes offered for hand-embroidered linen bedspreads. The judge pointed out that the many filet lace items shown had been made with a crochet hook instead of with a shuttle, while the bedspread entries were either worked on cotton or were machine made on linen.

DOUBLE PRIZES

There are more bread and cake entries than ever before shown, due in great part to the interest aroused by the special prizes offered by the milling companies and the Blue Ribbon baking powder contest. An unusual incident doubled the prize list available in the baking powder cake contest. An error in the prize list printed this class twice but the fair authorities stood by the printed list and duplicated, from association funds, the award offered by the Blue Ribbon Company.

CONVICT TELLS HOW SEVENTEEN CHURCHES IN CANADA BURNED

Man Serving Term in Penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, Makes Affidavits

St. Anne de Beaupre Shrine and Quebec Basilica Were in Group Destroyed

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 25—Affidavits describing the burning of seventeen Roman Catholic churches in Canada, including the famous shrine at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, near Quebec, and the historic Basilica in Quebec City, have been signed by Ray Marsden, a convict in the Ohio penitentiary here. The fires at Ste. Anne's and Quebec took place a few years ago.

The shrine suffered a second fire during the past year, but reconstruction is proceeding, while the Basilica has been restored.

SENT TO MONTREAL

The statements are in the possession of Adelard Constantine, sergeant detective on the Montreal fire commission, and J. R. Timmerman, state fire marshal of Ohio. Marsden signed the affidavits last night and Detective Constantine left with them for Montreal.

The burning of the churches was the work of the same gang with which Marsden worked in the United States, he told the Associated Press. Authorities are still searching for members of this gang not yet apprehended.

500 GO TO WORK IN B.C. HOP FIELDS

Pickers Travel From Vancouver to Sumas District; Men Go to Prairies

Vancouver, Aug. 25—Five hundred men, women and children have left Vancouver for the Sumas hop fields, where they will begin work immediately if the weather is suitable, according to J. H. McVety, superintendent of the Employment Service of Canada.

Another 500 are registered and will leave as rapidly as they can be dispatched.

Pickers for the Sardis fields will leave on Saturday and Monday.

Over 4,100 harvesters have already been dispatched to the prairie provinces, states Mr. McVety. More men are required than was earlier thought to be the case. In response to a call from Moose Jaw, 200 men left that city Wednesday.

CONSTABLE KILLED BY HAMBURG MOB

Hamburg, Aug. 25.—One policeman was killed and several officers and onlookers were injured in Communist Sacco-Vanzetti demonstrations here last night.

The Communists erected barricades across the street car lines and attacked police with stones and bottles.

The policeman who was killed was off duty. He was dragged from a street car, severely handled and, running a few yards, was overtaken in a state of collapse. The mob again attacked him with daggers and clubs. Police who rushed to his rescue were met with a shower of stones. They retaliated with revolver shots.

Order was re-established early this morning after hard fighting, in which other police and onlookers were in-

PRINCE GAVE SILVER TO B.C. CHILDREN

Sirdar, B.C., Aug. 25.—Children of Proctor, B.C., remember the Prince of Wales as some new Father Bountiful. They gathered in force about his car during transfer of the royal train to barges for the trip down Kootenay Lake to Kootenay Landing yesterday and they were so curious they were not content with one prince.

"Where's yer brother," shouted one little fellow.

"Would you like to see him?" asked the Prince of Wales. "Wait a minute and I'll get him for you."

"He disappeared and was back in a moment with Prince George. The brothers talked with the children for a minute or two and the Prince of Wales disappeared again.

"I've got something else here," he said as he came back with a box.

It contained pieces of refined silver given to him as souvenirs earlier in the day at Tadanac. The children held out eager hands.

The Prince broke the silver to make it go around among the children, but there was still one disappointed little tot. He held out an empty hand, but the last piece of silver had gone. A third time the Prince disappeared within his car.

He was back in a few moments and pressing a plum into the tiny hand, and the little one smiled again.

TO-DAY'S CONTEST

ONE OR TWO LOCAL ISSUES HAVE been discussed during the byelection campaign which comes to an end with the marking of ballots in New Westminster to-day. But for the most part the Government's record has been the principal theme. Mr. Gray has had plenty of material to deal with. Mr. Welsh is not nearly so fortunate in this respect.

In an open letter, which appeared in several Mainland newspapers, Mr. Gray presented his case in a candid manner. He relied upon facts and set them down briefly and clearly. He regarded them as sufficient reason why the voters of New Westminster should elect him to the Legislature to-day. Beyond that he reminded them that they would be acting in their own interests by sending him to Victoria to be in the confidence of the Government. While he might not be able to persuade the Cabinet to do everything he asked it to do for the constituency he hoped to represent, he pointed out that a member of an Opposition party would be considerably less favorably situated in this regard.

This is a very human way of putting it. Matters of public policy, we know, are settled on their merits; but there always will be an inclination to give first thought to the requests of friends of the party in office—provided they are not unreasonable or inimical to the public interest. Mr. Gray is frank enough to remind the people of New Westminster of this and asks for their support on these grounds as well as on the grounds of the Government's record.

Mr. Gray's personal claim to represent New Westminster in the Legislature is a strong one. He has been mayor of the city eight times—in itself a tribute to his administrative ability.

EPIC OF WHEAT

SIXTY YEARS OF CONFEDERATION have brought progress far exceeding the hopes of the pioneers who laid the foundations of the Dominion, and the very coping stone of this arch of achievement is "Wheat."

In celebrating the Diamond Jubilee, Canadians properly recalled the marvelous story of wheat. The three prairie provinces produce the greater bulk of the Canadian wheat crop, and almost all of the exportable surplus of about 300,000,000 bushels annually.

It is a story which proves the ability of the Canadian people to conquer the greatest obstacles, to adapt themselves to Nature, and to unite science with industry.

In 1867 wheat production—and all agricultural production was confined to the central and eastern provinces—was 21,000,000 bushels, barely enough to feed the population of 3,370,000 people. The prairie West, not yet confederated, was a primeval wilderness, a summering land for Indian bands, and a grazing paradise for buffalo.

Twenty years brought the West into Confederation, and witnessed the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The faith of Canadians in the western plains was unshaken, but the outside world scoffed at the mad dream that sometime the prairies would yield to the plough. As late as 1881 a responsible British publication said of the prairies that it was as sensible to develop them "as to endeavor to carry out a scheme for the utilization of icebergs. The prairies are frost bound for seven or eight months of the year. Men and cattle are frozen to death in numbers that would astonish and those not killed outright are often maimed for life."

Settlement proceeded slowly. Until the turn of the century Canadians themselves regarded the prairies as a ranching country. Wheat could not be grown successfully because the varieties then in existence required 120 days or more to ripen and the growing season was too short.

By 1906 wheat production had climbed to 125,000,000 bushels, mostly produced outside of the prairies. In that year Dr. C. G. Saunders, Dominion cerealist, concluded experiments he had been carrying on at the Ottawa Experimental Farm with the announcement that he had discovered a new wheat—Marquis—which yielded five bushels more per acre than any other variety and ripened in 110 days.

Clipping ten days off the growing season made the prairies the granary of the world. The era of the wheat farmer had dawned. In 1909, production mounted to 166,000,000 bushels, and in 1915 to 303,500,000 bushels. A strip two hundred miles wide across the prairies was turned from a ranching country into a wheat-growing area. In 1923 a record of production—474,000,000 bushels—was established.

However, the end is not yet. Still farther northward for a distance of another two hundred miles is a wonderful meadow and lake country. The Canadian agricultural scientists, remembering the achievement of Dr. Saunders, continued their research work. A hardy early ripening wheat was brought from the Himalayas and crossed with the best domestic strains. The result was announced in 1926 by L. H. Newman, who has succeeded Dr. Saunders as Dominion cerealist. Garnet wheat was started on its way—a wheat equal to Marquis in quality and yield, and ripening in one hundred days. This was no unconsidered announcement. Garnet had been tested along the Hudson Bay Railway and at experimental stations in the northland. It has stood the most exacting tests.

In 1926 the entire stock of Garnet, 12,000 bushels, was distributed to several thousands of farmers. The reports received leave no doubt but that it fulfils all that has been claimed for it.

With the discovery of Garnet wheat the northern limit of the wheat producing area of Canada was rolled back two hundred miles. From 1900 to 1910 the Canadian Government advertised in Europe and the United States for pioneers to fill Canada's "Last Great West." Now the Dominion has entered the Jubilee year of Confederation with another and equally great "Last Great West" waiting for the pioneer.

A CURE FOR PESSIMISM

"IF YOU GO TO CANADA A PESSIMIST, you will feel like a fish out of water," was one of the first observations the British Premier made to the waiting newspapermen at Southampton. It is obvious that he meant this. Although he was in the country only nineteen days, every one of his twenty-six speeches contained a direct reference to the enjoyment his tour was giving him. He would have been still more enthusiastic about it if time had permitted him to come as far as Vancouver Island. What he did see, however, must have made a lasting impression upon his mind.

No doubt it will afford Mr. Baldwin considerable pleasure to be able to discuss Canada from the Canadian standpoint. Many people, no doubt, will question him about our country. They will want to know what he thinks of our institutions, what opportunities there are for the settler or the investor, and all these questions will give him a chance to talk about Canada from more than one angle. This will stimulate interest in the Dominion. In fact the cause of migration of men and money may benefit more than we think as a result of his flying visit.

Incidentally, the rapidity with which the British Prime Minister made his tour from the time he left Britain until his arrival home yesterday should be noted by those who annually pour their money into Continental European hotels because the idea of a holiday in Canada does not occur to them. Few realize that Victoria is only eleven days from London, the journey across the Dominion furnishing a variety of scene and activity unparalleled anywhere else in the world.

Premier Baldwin now knows something of what we have. His word will be taken as ample proof that the claims which have been made in Canada's advertising literature can be upheld in every particular.

WHICH?

THE VANCOUVER DAILY PROVINCE said editorially yesterday: "A vote to-morrow for Wells Gray is a vote for weak government and machine politics."

A few days ago The Province said editorially:

> The Oliver Government—and the name of John Oliver can be more appropriately associated with his Government in this connection than in any other that ought to be remembered at this time of his life—will leave a respectable record of legislative achievement. Most of its social legislation was not merely well-intended, but it has actually made life a little easier for a great many poor people in this Province. Widows' pensions have been a good thing. We are all hoping that old age pensions will be a good thing. On the whole, the finances of British Columbia have been capably and honestly administered by the Oliver Government. There has been a real development of the Province by virtue of a comprehensive road-building policy. If the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is a woeful item on the wrong side of the ledger, the Oliver Government can clear itself of the primary blame for it.

There seems to be something weak and wobbly about The Province's political views. Which did it mean? What it said yesterday or what it said several days ago? Perhaps it meant both. There would be no phenomenon if it did, for our agile Vancouver contemporary is the champion newspaper contortionist in Canada. "All things to all men" appears to be its slogan.

AMERICA STILL A FRIEND

From The Toronto Globe

The sentiments expressed at the opening of the new Peace Bridge to the effect that the failure of the Naval Conference at Geneva will cause no strain in the friendship which exists between Great Britain and the United States have received very definite corroboration from President Coolidge himself. He says the naval policy of his country will not be changed as a result of the collapse of the negotiations at Geneva will cause no strain in the friendship which exists between Great Britain and the United States have received very definite corroboration from President Coolidge himself. He says the naval policy of his country will not be changed as a result of the collapse of the negotiations at Geneva; expresses his belief that the failure to arrive at an agreement is temporary, and adds that nothing will be done in the next few years, so far as his Administration is concerned, to disturb the cordial relations among the nations affected. Mr. Coolidge is no longer in the running for the presidency, and therefore has no need to say or do things which are likely to catch votes. As it is not prompted by motives of political exigency the president's statement will do much to assure the world that competition in armaments, so far as the United States is concerned, is improbable for some years to come.

CONFEDERATION AND AFTER

Sixty Years of Progress

NO. 81

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT ...

Entering Parliament in 1863, Sir Richard Cartwright was just in time to throw the force of his oratory into the struggle for Confederation, and into the defence of the "great Coalition" that made Confederation possible, as is seen in his speech of March 9, 1865, preserved in Dr. George Locke's collection of famous addresses, called "Builders of the Canadian Commonwealth." Thereafter for fifty years his eloquence was never absent from the official debates on Canada's public affairs. Apart from his able work as a cabinet minister in the Department of Finance and Trade and Commerce under Alexander Mackenzie and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he performed a great service as chief financial critic of the Conservative administration from 1878 to 1896.

He believed that Canada was strategically placed to bring about "an alliance of the English-speaking peoples of the world," and in 1897 almost immediately after the Liberal Party had been returned to power, we find him a delegate to Washington to promote better relations between Canada and the United States. He was an out-and-out free trader, and frequently, but without sucess, advocated reciprocity agreements with our southern neighbor. It is to be regretted that he did not live to see Canada take her place in the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva in 1920, or Mr. Vincent Massey appointed minister to Washington in 1927 — both steps of which Cartwright would have heartily approved.

He was born at Kingston, Upper Canada, in 1935, of United Empire Loyalist stock—his grandfather having been the Hon. Richard Cartwright, who eventually became prominent in political and business circles in Canada. The grandson, Richard John Cartwright, was educated at Kingston, and Trinity College, Dublin. After his return to Canada he became president of the Commercial Bank of the Midland District. Elected as Conservative to the Legislative Assembly of Canada, he became one of the staunchest supporters of Sir John A. Macdonald, and remained so until 1870, when he was the unsuccessful rival of Sir Francis Hincks for the portfolio of Finance. Shortly afterwards he opposed his chief on banking reforms, and by 1872 his antipathy to the proposed Canadian Pacific Railway Bill caused him to join the Liberal Party, through which he served his country with distinction until his death in 1912, at which time he was Liberal leader of the Senate.

From 1873 till 1878 he was Minister of Finance under Alexander Mackenzie; and was created a K.C.M.G. in 1879. After eighteen years in Opposition, he accepted the portfolio of Trade and Commerce in the first Laurier administration, formed in 1896, and held that office until 1904, when he was appointed to the Senate. His G.C.M.G. had been conferred in 1907. He sat in Parliament for nearly fifty years; and for almost forty years he was the chief spokesman of the Liberal Party on matters of trade and finance.

Among his many famous speeches, that seconding the vote of thanks to the volunteers who had served in the Northwest Rebellion in 1885 is still regarded as one of the masterpieces of parliamentary eloquence. That his splendid gift remained with him in old age is attested by his masterly oration of 1908 on the occasion of the creation of the Quebec Battlefields Commission.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

To the Editor:—In The Times for August 19 there is an editorial entitled, "Getting Dairy Industry Secrets." You suggest in that article to induce a few hundreds of expert Danish dairymen to come to B.C. and show the rest of the dairy farmers of this great Province "how they do it." You also expect them to bring their own capital. This, Mr. Editor, seems to me something like inviting your friends to a chicken dinner and ask them to bring their own chicken! For one thing, here are already not merely "a few hundreds," but a few thousands of "experienced Danish dairymen," farmers and men well versed in co-operative methods. Why not give them (the native born Canadians) an opportunity before bringing more immigrants in?

I have another of your editorials (carefully kept), dated ——: "Short on Butter Again." At that time butter had to be imported to B.C. from far away Quebec, "until the next shipment reaches our ports from the Antipodes!" Now, you try to tell such a tale in Denmark and they will either say what they think of you (!) or of your Province. A country as large as Germany and Sweden together with only about 600,000 or 700,000 population that cannot (or will not?) produce all the agricultural products they need, and then some! The Government of B.C. is trying to encourage dairying in the Province in different ways. They will assist any group of dairy farmers in establishing an up-to-date creamery; they offer financial assistance to farmers desirous of entering the dairy business; their dairy branch (also University of B.C. and experimental stations) are always ready to give practical and valuable advice through their officials or through a wire range of literature.

When you wrote your last article, Mr. Editor, perhaps you overlooked the fact that the farmers in Denmark, Great Britain or any other European country are not very anxious to leave their native lands and their comforts, their relatives, their beloved homesteads, inherited through centuries by the same family, and go to a new land as pioneers, because they are doing well in the Old Country?

However, the Provincial Government would do well in making an arrangement whereby "a few hundreds" of the Danish dairy farmers already here could be induced to put all their energy, strength, skill and knowledge into the work they have, and which comes natural to them. This Spring a number of Norwegian newcomers were given fishing certificates very soon after their arrival here, because they were experts (otherwise only obtainable after five years' stay in the country). Could similar considerations be extended to some Danes?

B.C. should not have to spend one cent for imported agricultural produce, neither from other provinces, nor from other countries. This unnatural state of affairs should be rectified as soon as possible.

I am a dairyman with sixteen years' universal experience, and I am figuring on "crossing the line" when they will let me, as there does ont seem to be any use for me here.

Large parties from every corner of the globe are constantly flocking to Denmark to study and learn; there must be something worth white going for? In conclusion let me say that I think the fruitgrowers of the Okanagan need advice on co-operation as bad as any.

MACHINE POLITICS

To the Editor:—In The Daily Province, under date of August 13, an editorial appears which says in part as follows:

"The Liberals have got to meet the charge that they have allowed the administration of British Columbia's business to pass too much into the control of their party machine. The Conservatives have got to impress the electorate with the sincerity of their saying that they will purge the Government of machine control if they are put in charge of it."

As one who is distrustful of the methods of both parties, I think such a statement should not pass unchallenged in view of the machine methods used by the Conservative party in Cowichan-Newcastle District.

In 1924 a Conservative committee was appointed to draw up a constitution for the then recently joined ridings of Cowichan-Newcastle, subsequently an alteration was made, changing the words "executive committee" into "president" and the constitution in this last form was sent to the Central Organization in Vancouver for approval, and was duly returned endorsed by the president.

I would like to stress two points: (1) Our sittihg member who is president of both branches of the Cowichan-Newcastle Conservative Association allowed this machine to be foisted on the party. (2) The president of the Central Conservative Association of B. C. approved of this "amended constitution" without consulting his executive. Thus we have both the member and the president of the parent association making their executives nonentities.

In view of the foregoing can we justly conclude that the Conservative party are sincere in their alleged endeavors to rid the government of machine control.

AGAIN CANCER

To the Editor:—Irving Fisher of Yale University makes the statement that "the whole modern movement to check cancer is based upon early examination long before the patient begins to feel ill." If this statement means anything, it means repeated examinations at least yearly if we would follow the suggestions of the apostle of modern preventative medicine. And how is the cancer to be determined "long before the patient begins to feel ill?" The accepted medical practice of to-day has no answer to this problem. To diagnose a disease before it is apparent lies beyond the ken of to-day's practice. But Irving Fisher's keen insight into the conditions and necessities of the cancer problem has led him to pitch a high note that society will be compelled to emulate if we would deal successfully with this matter.

It may not be generally known that the cancer patient has a history of indigestion, dizzy sensations usually covering a period of many years before the actual development of the growth, and that for a period directly previous to the formation of this cancerous growth, he usually enjoys much better general health. In fact, it appears as if the growth were Nature's attempt to cleanse the system of accumulated poisons by sweeping them together in one place with an attempt to destroy them. Occasionally she accomplishes this purpose, but more frequently she fails, and the blocking of the circulation and subsequent death of the part marks the beginning of the end. To operate for the removal of the cancer is to lock the stable door after the horse has been stolen. It can have no more effect upon the elimination of the cancerold condition than the amputation of a rheumatically deformed hand can relieve the general rheumatic condition. As Irving Fisher has stated we must act "long before the patient begins to feel ill."

Now, how are we to determine this tendency to cancer? The modern conception of the electronic constitution of matter has given us the solution and in this, medicine does not lag behind the spectroscope and the radio. We are now able by the examination of the blood, to determine the presence of the pre-cancerous condition and also the localization, should this have taken place, in from seventy-five to eighty per cent of these cases.

This system of testing the blood has not yet received the endorsation by the medical profession that it deserves. Herein is a most valuable method of diagnosis, which is too often neglected, and sufferers allowed to drift into a hopeless condition before treatment is adopted.

With this system of diagnosis, which the writers has used with satisfaction for some years, or with the spectroscopic modification of the same as used by Dr. Mitchell, chief of the Liverpool Cancer Hospital, the suggestion of Irving Fisher takes on a new meaning and "early examination long before the patient takes ill" becomes a most reasonable procedure.

We should treat our bodies with a consideration at least equal to that given our automobiles, we give them at least one overhauling each year. Let the slogan of each adult be: "To my physician I shall go at every birthday for my annual overhauling."

The science of nutrition, modern methods of diagnosis and treatment and all the best in the scientific world is challenged by the alarming increase of cancer. Radium and X-rays have seen their zenith, surgery has met its Waterloo in disappointment, and we still have with us "cancer the greatest scourge of civilization."

Let us appreciate the deeper meaning of Irving Fisher's statement and carefully consider the most advanced means of diagnosis and prevention.

Changes its own Records

Plays twelve records without attention.—Runs itself for a whole hour. No operating effort on your part.—Just listen.

WHEN you turn on the current, the turntable starts to revolve; a mechanical "hand" takes the first record from the group of twelve and places it on the turntable; the tone-arm moves into position; the sound-box is lowered and the music begins. At the end of the selection, the mechanical "hand" removes the record from the turntable, slides it gently into a felt-lined concealed drawer, and "picks off" the next record from the magazine arm. These operations are repeated until the last record is played, then the mechanism stops automatically.

So magnificent an instrument demands an exterior of exceptional beauty. Victor craftsmen have designed a distinguished cabinet for the Automatic Orthophonic Victrola, in which every luxurious touch that ingenuity can devise has been incorporated.

The price of the automatic instrument is $775. Other models of the Orthophonic Victrola Instruments are obtainable at prices ranging from $430. down to $115.

Obtainable on convenient terms from "His Master's Voice" Dealers. Demonstrations now going on. If your dealer hasn't one he will order it for you.

LIQUOR'S ENEMY TO SPEAK HERE

W. E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, Ardent Prohibitionist, to Give Address on Monday

One of the world's strongest fighters for prohibition, W. E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, will speak at the Metropolitan Church at 8 o'clock on Monday evening. The campaigner was born in New York State, 1882, and has been conspicuous as a prohibition fighter since 1903.

He started his career on The Lincoln Daily News as a journalist. After four years there he went to the Nebraska News Bureau as manager, and later became special feature and syndicate writer. In 1905 he was given the post as associate editor of The New York Voice.

The States of Indiana and Oklahoma came within his jurisdiction when he was given a position as a special government agent. In the U.S. Indian Service from 1908 to 1911 he won distinction by securing more than 4,400 court convictions of offenders against the liquor law.

Mr. Johnson has continued his fight against alcohol, and now has a world reputation.

It was in England that he lost an eye while speaking in favor of prohibition.

How To Reduce Varicose Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces last a very long time. Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic sores and ulcers are often entirely healed and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. McFarlane Drug Co. sells lots of it. (Advt.)

BAPTIST CHURCH IS SCENE OF WEDDING

Miss Bessie Middleton and A. Gordon Reid United in Marriage

Decorated with a profusion of Summer flowers in shades of mauve and pink the First Baptist Church was the setting for a pretty wedding last evening when Rev. James Strachan united in marriage Bessie Victoria, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Middleton of Elk Lake, to Mr. A. Gordon Reid of San Francisco, son of the late Mr. Pat Reid and Mrs. Reid of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of ivory georgette, with deep silk fringe on the skirt and falling in graceful cape-like effect from the shoulder. The veil of filmy tulle was arranged in cap-fashion beneath a wreath of orange blossoms and formed a long train, finished at the hem with a true lover's knot of silver thread. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and Ophelia roses.

Miss Florence McMillan was bridesmaid in a frock of orchid crepe madonna, trimmed with mauve French flowers, and a picture hat of the same shade. Her flowers were columbia roses and mauve sweet peas.

Three-year-old Joan McIntosh was a dainty flower girl, dressed in a frilly frock of flowered chiffon. She carried a basket of roses and Thalictrum.

Mr. Donald White of Vancouver was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Molson Smith and Mr. Robert McIntosh.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. McIntosh sang "Beloved It Is Morn."

At the reception held at 3136 Quadra Street, Mrs. Middleton, gowned in amethyst taffeta and a becoming black hat, assisted the young couple in receiving their guests. The house was decorated with asters, sweet peas and gladioli, and in the dining-room where the buffet supper was served, the table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake.

After a honeymoon on Vancouver Island Mr. and Mrs. Reid will leave on the Ruth Alexander on Sunday for San Francisco, where they will make their home. The bride traveled in a smart frock of gooseberry green georgette, the short coat being trimmed with hand embroidery and the model hat was of the same shade. As a wrap Mrs. Reid wore a sand poiret twill coat, trimmed with fur.

WEALTHY WOMAN SUED BY HINDU

Los Angeles Suit Follows Clubwoman's Alleged Film Venture

Los Angeles, Aug. 25.—Swan Singh, who says he is a member of the aristocracy of the Indian states of Patiala and Kashmir, filed suit to-day for $6,890.50 against Mrs. J. Elizabeth C. Miller, wealthy Cleveland club woman and student of Oriental philosophies, whom he has claimed as a patroness.

The complaint declared that $3,250 was due Singh in return for serving as Mrs. Miller's press agent and booker on her lecture tour; that $398.50 represented a taxi bill run up in her behalf, and that $6,000 was coming to him in lieu of six valuable gold embroidered panels Singh gave Mrs. Miller to sell, and which she refused to return.

According to the Hindu's story, he came to Hollywood recently at Mrs. Miller's suggestion to further plans for the filming of a costly motion picture, depicting the adventures of an Indian princess in America, which the two of them had conceived.

Singh was said to have offered to star Greta Nissen in the picture. Miss Nissen said to-day the Hindu had deluged her with presents.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

WORRIES OF A PROSPECTIVE MOTHER

It seems natural for a prospective mother to worry. That just seems to be part of the trials of motherhood. If one could only make mothers understand that they can not avoid the unpleasantnesses of ordinary life, or escape its worries, or be blind to its distasteful sights, and that none of these things has any power to mar the small souls that are in their keeping, mothers would have a much happier time of it.

The following letter is a case in point:

Mrs. S. E. L. writes: "I expect you will think this letter sounds foolish, but if I feel tired and drowsy, after having worked all morning and afternoon, and if I lie down for an hour before dinner, will that make the baby lazy and not ambitious when grown? I am thirty-eight years old and have a family of nine to work for, and I do my washing, ironing, baking and churning and sewing, too, when I have enough energy after the work is done. My health is and has been good, but it seems as if I have no pep.

"Would the baby be cross because I have to listen to the boys next door, two and three years old, cry from the minute they get up until they go to bed at 9 o'clock?"

ANSWER

It seems to me that you have written a whole volume in your short letter. Far from it making the baby lazy and without ambition when you take a short nap in the afternoon, it is vitally important that you should. You are doing the work of two persons when you have to care for a household of nine persons and some one is being thoughtless and negligent to let you do it without help. Surely in a household of this size there must be someone who would do something to lighten your labors. Most prospective mothers want and need a great deal more sleep than usual.

If you are cross after the baby is born, because of your many duties, and the irritation of listening to crying all day long, this might lead the small baby to be cross, too, because nervous, irritable mothers almost always affect their babies the same way, just as adults answer crossly when spoken to in that manner. But the things you hear or experience before the baby is born won't affect him a particle. It is a blessed good thing to get any kind of a start at all, if he were affected by every experience which affected his mother during nine long months? These are old, worn-out theories which are held by no one who is willing to be convinced by those who know.

LORD HEWART IS HONORED IN TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 25.—The University of Toronto conferred its highest honor, the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, upon Right Hon. Lord Hewart, of Bury, Lord Chief Justice of England, at a special convocation last night. Sir Robert Falconer, president, presented Lord Hewart to the Chancellor, Sir William Mulock.

Acknowledging the honor, Lord Hewart paid tribute to the part the Canadian Bar was playing in the life of the country, and particularly to the influence of the tradition of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

"In all essentials law is the exact opposite of what its acrimonious critics accuse it of being," he said. "It is not to foment quarrels, but to prevent them. It is not to entangle affairs in ambiguities, but to apply to them a clear vision to bring about their solution.

"It is well those who are absorbed in law should meet together for mutual encouragement and mutual exaltation."

The Canadian Bar Association is now holding its annual meeting in Toronto.

MUSIC GIVEN AS CHARACTER TEST

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Music is the key to the hidden haunts of the human soul, Ambrose Wyrick, Chicago operatic and concert tenor, believes. In telling the Collegiate Club that music offers a means of testing character, Mr. Wyrick suggested the following experiment:

"If you're considering matrimony, give your prospective partner $10 to spend for music. If he comes back with "Home Sweet Home" among the pieces, then go ahead and marry. If he spends the money on a lot of hot noises, then it's a sure bet the best thing to do is to give him the air."

Ends Hygienic Worry

for Women Wearing

Thin, Summer Dresses

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

THE lovely flowered chiffons and pastel crepes of this season—one loves their gay lightness, but sometimes fears to wear them.

Kotex makes them safe. Filled with Cellucotton wadding, the world's super-absorbent, it ends the risk of old-time "sanitary pads" by being 5 times more absorbent!

Deodorizes, too. Discards easily as tissue; no laundry or embarrassment. And thus ends most women's greatest hygienic worries.

To 8 in 10 better-class women, Kotex means more than a mere sanitary pad—it means proved and positive scientific protection. See that you get the genuine. If name "Kotex" is not on the box, don't accept it.

Garden Fete to Aid St. Martin's Church

A garden fete, which promises many attractions, will be held on Wednesday, August 31, from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m., in the grounds of the residence of Canon Stocken, 729 Lampson Street, Esquimalt, and the adjoining grounds, by kind permission of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. McTavish.

The proceeds will benefit St. Martin's Church, Tillicum, and it is hoped that sufficient funds will be raised to pay off the small remaining indebtedness on the land, secure adequate fire insurance on the church and hall and carry out needed work on the church roof and in interior work.

St. Martin's Ladies' Guild will be responsible for the home cooking stall; the men have undertaken a stall of home-made useful articles, fruit, vegetables and flowers with which they will make an appeal to thrifty housewives. A stall of dainty rocks and other wear for small children will offer unusually attractive possibilities at this season, when little wardrobes need replenishing. Fancy articles will also be shown.

Games and amusements include a cocoanut alley, Mother Goose, butterfly drawing competition, carpet bowling, quoits and croquet. Afternoon tea will be served and ice cream and candies will be on sale.

Canadian Daughters.—Members of the Canadian Daughters' League are meeting on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. L. Wilson, 2134 Granite Street, Oak Bay, for the purpose of bidding farewell to Mrs. R. A. Barr and daughter, who are leaving on Saturday for an extended visit in the East. All members are asked to be present. Further information may be obtained from the president, telephone 3233L.

A. J. Paterson of Vancouver Died

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—The death of A. J. Paterson, 1541 Twenty-eighth Avenue West, Vancouver, has removed a well-known pioneer.

Mr. Paterson had resided in this city for thirty-nine years. He was a native of Ontario and spent his early life there. Reaching Vancouver two years after the great fire here, he subsequently became chief clerk in the office of James A. Fullerton, C.P.R. ship's husband at this port. About eighteen years ago he resigned from the marine branch of the railway service to engage in the real estate business. For some years he was identified with a toy manufactuory which he promoted here.

He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Miss Edith Paterson, barrister, Vancouver, and Mrs. M. C. Lane of Victoria.

Portsmouth, Eng., Aug. 25. — The Gosport Military Detention barracks, one of the most famous military prisons in England, has been closed.

Prisoners of many nations have been detained here. Boer prisoners made their home here during the South African War, and French prisoners of war were confined in a wooden building on the same site during the Napoleonic wars.

Military offenders in the Portsmouth district will in future be sent to Aldershot.

LUMBER SELLING DISCUSSION THEME

Retailers at Convention Threaten to Promote Substitutes But Threat Dies

Industrial Lumber May be Sold Direct to Consumer But Not Crating Lumber

Tacoma, Aug. 25.—A sputter of defiance coupled with the threat to divert their energies to the sale of lumber substitutes, marked yesterday afternoon's session of the National Retail Lumber Dealers' Association convention here.

But the sputter died out in the face of the elaborate trade extension programme of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association as unfolded by George S. Long of Tacoma.

Two resolutions dealing with the distribution policy of manufacturers were adopted, one of them by so narrow a margin that the result was declared inconclusive, and it was deferred for action at the next convention.

PASSAGE DEFERRED

This indorsed the policy of allowing manufacturers to sell industrial lumber direct to consumers and passed by a margin of two votes. On the ground that the vote failed to show a decisive opinion of the association its passage was deferred.

The vote was 21 to 19, the vast majority of the delegates not voting either way.

Industrial lumber is that which becomes an integral part of a finished product, such as running boards for an automobile. Because of the special specifications for all such lumber it was contended that the best results were obtained by the manufacturers selling direct.

The second resolution on crating lumber provided that this should be sold only through the retailers to the consuming public. It carried unanimously.

PLENTY OF LUMBER

"It is true," said Mr. Long, "that we have been depleting the forests faster than they are growing and twenty years ago a patriotic movement began to save the forests by using substitutes for lumber. This movement has grown until people feel that the lumber is gone, and that substitutes are necessary.

"We must show them that there is plenty of lumber for all needs, and that it is superior to anything else in many uses.

"The manufacturers are launching a campaign to stimulate lumber sales throughout the country. Five regional offices will be established with laboratories, engineers and architects to be at the disposal of any dealer and to aid him in the solution of any of his problems.

LUMBER SUPERIOR

"We will prove by scientific tests in our laboratories where lumber is superior to other products. Our engineers will demonstrate where it is superior in building construction, and our architects will show where it can be used to produce beauty in construction.

"We will watch legislation prohibiting the use of lumber and we will work with the retailer all the way through. We have waked up to the fact that the manufacturer must help the retailer."

Mail Concessions Needed For Good Fleet, Says Dollar

New York, Aug. 25.—America can have a successful North Atlantic fleet if the Government will give American ships "the right mail concessions," said Stanley Dollar, returning on the liner France yesterday from a tour of the European branches of the Dollar Steamship Company, of which he is president. He was accompanied by his wife and two children.

"An aggressive American line with mail concessions and contracts could hold its own with any other country's fleet," he said.

ENGINEERS ON WAY TO START SURVEY OF H.B. TERRITORY

Some of the party will proceed to Port Nelson to commence the work of retrieving as much of the harbor material as can be used at Fort Churchill. Another group of men will start on the preliminary survey for the harbor developments at the new terminal.

NIAGARA TAKES PROMINENT LIST

Cabinet Ministers of Australia Sail South on R.M.S. Niagara

Taking out over 400 passengers, including many persons prominent in world affairs, the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara, Commander A. C. Showman, sailed from this port about 10 o'clock last night for Honolulu, Australia and New Zealand.

Two Ministers of the Australian Government, Hon. J. M. Baddeley and Hon. H. E. Pratten, were among the first cabin list.

Mr. Baddeley, who is Minister of Mines for Australia, stated that the mining industry in Australia is now rapidly expanding. In the Broken Hill and Mainland Cennock districts of New South Wales are some of the largest mills in the world, he said.

Mr. Baddeley has been on a tour of Europe, the United States and Canada during the last six months, accompanied by J. B. Hindmarsh, chief inspector of collieries for New South Wales; A. E. Andrews, Government geologist and F. Hines. They were commissioned by the Government to investigate the most modern methods of extraction of thick coal seams and also to examine systems of extraction of by-products of coal and to report on methods of producing electric power from coal and water. He visited the Nanaimo mines while on the coast.

AUSTRALIAN TRADE

Mr. Pratten, who is Minister of Trade and Customs for Australia, has been studying the relationship of Australian trade to conditions in the United Kingdom, the United States and Canada during the last three months.

While in Ottawa, Mr. Pratten interviewed several Canadian ministers on the subject of the Reciprocity Treaty. Australian authorities object to the dumping duty imposed against Australian butter, he said, and emphasized Premier Stanley Bruce's statement that reciprocity means some giving as well as taking. British Columbia benefited through the great increase in newsprint trade and special concessions given her in fish, he declared.

Sir Henry Cowan, M.P., who was accompanied by Lady Cowan, is on a mission to Australia to stir interest in the Commonwealth and in New Zealand of British immigration. He wishes to be exactly posted on just what is being done in immigration in the Antipodes, looking to an extension of the Empire settlement scheme.

Other prominent passengers on the vessel include: Sir Lennon Raws, chairman of the Australian Metal Exchange, returning to his home in Melbourne with his wife and daughter; S. M. Myers, Melbourne representative of The London Daily Telegraph, who has been visiting Hugh Savage at Duncan; Rt. Hon. Edward Shortt, K.C.; Warren Kerr, C.B.E., and Mrs Kerr; E. G. Knox, Sydney, N.S.W., newspaper proprietor, and D. C. Lloyd Jones, managing director of Jones Limited of Sydney, N.S.W.

The Niagara had a large cargo for her outward trip, totaling more than 3,000 tons. Her cargo included automobiles, tires, lumber, doors and paper. She loaded 114 tons of general at Rithet Consolidated docks here.

UNSOUNDED AREAS IN PACIFIC LARGE

San Francisco, Aug. 25—G. W. Littlehales of the United States Hydrographic Service revealed here yesterday in his paper on the configuration of the basin of the Pacific Ocean, that areas as large as the continent of Australia exist in the Pacific for which no depth soundings has been recorded. In the North Pacific, he stated, there is one area twice as large as the United States which is crossed only by a single line of soundings about 250 miles apart.

With about a score of passengers aboard and with a capacity cargo in her holds, the motorship Leme, Capt. R. de Reya, sailed late yesterday for Mediterranean ports. Among the passengers on the Leme were Count Roberto Ricci and Clarence Fay.

The Dollar round-the-world liner President Monroe arrived here early yesterday with a heavy passenger list including a large group making the globe circling voyage. The Monroe will sail Saturday with all cabins filled.

Under command of Capt. P. Quinn, the Dollar liner President Madison arrived here early to-day from Manila via Shanghai, Yokohama and Honolulu. She carried a full list of passengers.

New Stevedoring Company Formed

Seattle, Aug. 25—Organization of the Washington Stevedoring Company of Seattle by W. C. Dawson, veteran Pacific Coast shipping man, and E. A. Quigle, formerly vice-president and general manager of the International Stevedoring Company, was announced here yesterday. Both men have long been familiar with waterfront operations in the Pacific northwest where they will operate.

The N.Y.K. liner Yokohama Maru, which berthed here yesterday after being delayed off Cape Flattery by fog, discharged silk valued at more than $4,000,000.

New Westminster, Aug. 25.—Five million feet of lumber loaded at New Westminster mills will leave the Fraser port within the next few days.

Ss. Foldenfjord is at No. 1 dock taking on one million feet for the Atlantic Coast. Ss. Fishpool, at No. 1 dock, will probably drop down river Saturday with three million feet for Japan. Ss. Levernbank is loading one million feet at Fraser Mills for South Africa.

DAMAGE TO PRINCE RUPERT IS $30,000

Vessel Will be Laid up Until Sept. 15 For Repairs; Schedule Rearranged

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—Ss. Prince Rupert will probably be repaired and on her coastal run within twenty days, according to an announcement made by B. C. Keely, manager of Canadian National Steamships in Vancouver. The vessel at present lies at Burrard Drydock.

Drydock engineers found on examination Wednesday morning, ten steel plates on the bottom of the vessel had been sprung and the rudder knocked out of place, putting the steering gear out of commission. Blades of the twin propellers were also damaged.

No investigation of the accident will take place, Mr. Keely stated, complete particulars of the accident having been obtained.

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—Damage sustained by the steamship Prince Rupert of the Canadian National Lines, when she struck Ripple Rock in Seymour Narrows last Monday will run between $25,000 and $30,000, it was estimated this morning when a survey was completed.

Thirteen plates were dented on the port side near the stern, the hand steering gear was badly jammed and the rudder frame bent.

Tenders have been called for the repairs which will likely keep the vessel out of commission until September 15.

According to information received late last night by C. F. Earle, district passenger agent for the Canadian National here, the schedule of the Canadian National Steamships will be rearranged until the Prince Rupert is back in commission.

Under the rearrangement of the schedule, the Prince George will sail from Vancouver on Monday, August 29, at 8 p.m., for Skagway, but her usual stay in the Northern port will be curtailed. Instead of sailing southbound from Skagway on Saturday evening, she will depart on Friday, September 2, at noon. She will arrive at Vancouver the morning of Monday, September 5, and leave the same night on her regular Fall schedule for Prince Rupert and Anyox.

The Prince Charles will leave Vancouver next Saturday at 8 p.m., for Prince Rupert, only. She will sail southbound from Prince Rupert on Monday afternoon, arriving in Vancouver on Wednesday morning. On the same evening she will sail for Prince Rupert and Stewart. Her next trip north will be from Vancouver on September 8, taking the Prince Rupert's regular sailing in the latter vessel's Fall schedule.

Thus, there will be no sailing southbound from Prince Rupert on September 1, or northbound from Vancouver on September 3.

BIG COMMUNICATION SYSTEM IS PLANNED

Mackay Companies to Supplement Land Telegraphs With Radio

Have Signed Contract For Acquisition of Federal Telegraph Company

New York, Aug. 25.—Radio communication shortly will be used by the Mackay companies as an auxiliary to the present commercial communication system to provide complete land telegraph ocean cable and land and ocean radio service, it was announced yesterday by George V. McLaughlin, vice-president. Not only will the radio be used to span the Pacific ocean, it was explained, but it will be employed in the development of a point to point communication service with the United States, supplementing existing land wires.

The Mackay companies have signed a contract for the acquisition by a subsidiary of the Federal Telegraph Company, which now operates point-to-point and ship-to-shore radio service on the Pacific Coast, whereby the Mackay companies will have the right to use and to expand the Federal radio system and use radio apparatus manufactured under Federal and other patents.

The Federal company controls the development of the long wave length arc system of radio transmission which has been found advantageous for long distance communication, and has rights in the DeForest and other patents on short wave transmission for use in the point-to-point service. The company also has a research laboratory and engineering system which are engaged in the fields of television, facsimile and photo-electric telegraphy and telephony, so that the Mackay companies may exploit to the fullest extent any pertinent developments in these fields.

Mr. McLaughlin said the proposition has been submitted to the United States Department of Justice and the Federal Radio Commission.

"So far as transoceanic communication is concerned," he asserted, "radio communication alone has not developed to the point where it has overcome all the difficulties presented in giving a quick, reliable, commercial service. It can, however, be used by the Mackay system to supplement its present communication system, and the relatively young radio industry will have the benefit of such improvements as an older communication system may be able to contribute to it."

The election of H. A. Emmons as a vice-president of the Mackay companies also was announced, his duties to be similar to those of traffic engineer for the Western Union Telegraph Company, a position he has held for seventeen years.

FIFTEEN DEAD IN SMASH IN ENGLAND

Holiday Train Bound For Deal From London Left Tracks at High Speed

London, Aug. 25.—Three of those injured when a Southern Railway train left the track and dashed into a wayside bank last evening died during the night, bringing the death total to fifteen. Eleven persons were killed outright, about twenty were seriously injured and many received minor injuries. The wreck occurred about twenty miles southeast of London, between Dunton Green and Sevenoaks, Kent. The train was a holiday special, bound for Deal. It was traveling at high speed when it suddenly began to rock and left the track. The coaches were wrecked.

What caused the wreck has not been officially explained, but it is believed recent heavy rains had softened the roadbed, causing the rails to spread.

Among the slightly injured were Lord and Lady Lewisham, both of whom suffered cuts on their legs. They were able to leave the hospital after treatment.

YOUNG MAN SOUGHT AFTER MOTHER'S DEATH

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Police are searching for Harry Hill, twenty-two, on a charge of murdering his mother, with whom he lived at Streator, Illinois.

The body of Mrs. H. O. Hill, fifty-five, who was living apart from her husband, was found in the basement of her home. She had been dead three weeks. On the back porch was found a pair of young Hill's shoes and on them was dried clay, such as that in which the body was found.

As a motive for the slaying, officers pointed to several gambling obligations Hill had contracted.

Young Hill registered at a Streator Hotel August 12, giving his address as New York City and instructing the night clerk he was not to be disturbed by telephone calls. Frank Tuley, hotel clerk, told a coroner yesterday at the opening of the inquest that Hill had lived at the hotel about two weeks.

Alice Sawyer, young Hill's twenty-year-old sweetheart, told the coroner Harry was with her last Sunday night, just twenty-four hours before the body was found, and that he was as usual, happy and carefree.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Equimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any tide, add 16.0 feet to the height of high water as above given.

VISITING ROTARY CLUBMEN GUESTS

Port Angeles Rotarians Welcomed by Local Organization at Empress Hotel

President James Fletcher of the Victoria Rotary Club welcomed to the organization luncheon to-day members of the Port Angeles Club and their wives. He emphasized that Rotarians wished to see more intimate relations between the two adjacent cities. As a matter of fact, he said, Victoria had sponsored the Port Angeles organization's beginning.

He called upon Percy Watson to present to President Benjamin Phillips of Port Angeles, a Canadian flag, a gift from the Victoria members.

With fitting words, Mr. Watson made the presentation.

The Port Angeles president declared that he had not been so pleased by any indication of friendship or good will expressed by any club before. He was profuse in his thanks.

DAY'S SPEAKER

Speaking on "The Sixth Object of Rotary International," Major Mott Sawyer of Port Angeles, addressed the gathering. This "sixth object" had to do with living at peace with one's neighbors, he said. Although international relations were a little foreign to his process of thought, he believed he was not alone in his lack of regard for things of this kind. But he rather thought that the national division was so slight between people of Victoria and people of Port Angeles, for instance, that the boundary line between them was actually simply imaginary.

The world could not stand a repetition of the war in Europe ten years ago, said the speaker. If it were to come about, Christianity would collapse and Christian civilization with it. To protect the integrity of Beligum and France Canada made a great sacrifice during the war. But the stone which was imported into France to erect monuments to Canadian soldiers was charged a duty as though it was for some commercial purpose. And yet France and all Europe looked upon the United States as a nation of "money-grabbers," he said. Such a situation seemed to defy remedy, but Rotary had something to say about it. Rotarian ideals and Rotary endeavor might prove of use in this great work, he said.

THE REMEDY

"Sympathy, friendliness and tolerance were virtues to which Rotarians are dedicated. The essence of Rotary is friendship, and we need to cultivate an intimate touch with people we cannot totally understand," the speaker declared.

It was among the masses of the ignorant people that international troubles bena, bred and grew. It was for Rotary to supply leaders, to educate and control the forces of public opinion, the Major declared.

There was one other possible opportunity for effective work. Rotarians who were leaders should "think in terms of the next generation," said the speaker. The governments might be made up of statesmen instead of politicians.

President Fletcher thanked the speaker and expressed appreciation of his remarks.

WELCOMED HOME

"Its a pleasure to be back," said Alderman James Adam, just returned from New Zealand, where he, as manager, was on tour with the all-Canadian soccer team. "I want to say that I and the members of the team thoroughly enjoyed our trip." Alderman Adam was given a hearty welcome.

Guests from many points were introduced to-day.

HOTEL LOBBY GOSSIP

Sir Adrian Ballee of the British Embassy at Washington, where he is second secretary for Sir Esme Howard, is staying in Victoria for a few days, registered at the Empress Hotel. Sir Adrian is a member of the well-known Cavendish family from which men who have won honors on many battlefields for England have been recruited. This morning he paid a visit to Government House and also saw over the Parliament Buildings. He is here for a few days on a vacation following the example of many others in diplomatic circles in Washington who have selected Vancouver Island for a holiday this Summer.

Commander Knotke, also of the British Embassy at Washington, who was present at the late Premier Oliver's funeral, with Mrs. Knotke, is also prolonging his stay in Victoria.

GIFT FROM PRINCE

A gift from the Prince of Wales was proudly displayed to-day by Richard Chester, driver for the Gray Line, who acted as chauffeur for the Prince of Wales during his Victoria visit. A handsome gold pin with the Prince of Wales's crest was a parting souvenir from His Royal Highness.

J. R. Stockton, of London, England, well-known writer and traveler, who has just completed a tour over the Canadian National Railways from Jasper Park to Prince Rupert stopping at many of the out-of-the-way places en route, is enchanted with British Columbia.

"Few places in the entire world hold the ever-changing charm that is to be found in Northern British Columbia," he says. Mountains as majestic as any in the world, lakes that seem like brilliants, spots in rivers and tarns to delight the heart of the most ardent angler, and scenery of all kinds that remain unsurpassed are all to be found in the region I have traveled," he says. Few more inspiring sights are vouchsafed to any man than that obtainable from the platform of the train at Mount Robson, while almost every mile of the journey presents new and pleasing vistas."

NOTED MAGICIAN VISITOR

On a brief visit to Victoria before he sailed on the Ss. Niagara, H. Llewellyn, who besides being a prominent shoe manufacturer of Australia, is skilled in the art of mystery, took the opportunity to visit L. D. McLean and Frank Merryfield, brother members of the Internatioanl Brotherhood of Magicians. He has just returned from the convention of magicians in Kenton, Ohio, which he reports was a great success. "The organization is now 1,700 strong and magicians came from all parts of the world. The revelation of good fellowship and harmony was remarkable," he said. Mr. Llewellyn would say little of the proceedings of the conference beyond saying that the cleverest magicians of the world addressed the great gatherings and demonstrated their latest and most wonderful tricks. In spite of its great membership the Brotherhood remains as dark a secret to the outside world as the tricks the magicians perform. Of the demonstrations at the convention and their methods, not one would breathe a word to those outside the realm of mystery. The bond between them, the wizards claim is greater than that between the members of any organization.

FROM SALT SPRING ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. L. Chaplin and their daughter Joan, of Salt Spring Island, arrived in Victoria to-day after a motor tour of Vancouver Island, and are registered at the Dominion. Mr. Chaplin, well known throughout the Province as a poultryman and breeder of some of the finest birds in Canada, was an exhibitor at the World's Poultry Congress at Ottawa. He won many prizes with twenty or more birds he showed, and one of his prize cockerels sold for $100. To-day they are seeing the poultry show at the Willows.

FORGOT FISHING TACKLE

With them was the Rev. J. W. Flinton, vicar of Salt Spring Island, who was formerly in charge of St. Mark's, Cloverdale. They have been on a tour which included the Comox Valley, Alberni; Campbell River Falls, Alberni; Sproat Lake and Great Central. Although he is reported to be an expert with rod and gun, the vicar on this occasion was absent-minded enough to neglect to pack his sport paraphernalia before he left Ganges.

P. Beach is another Salt Spring Island visitor and will spend a week in this city. Before leaving, Mr. Beach harvested his crop of oats which yielded an average of fifty bushels to the acre.

FAMOUS HORSE OWNER

Racing officials here for the races at the Willows entertained recently Lord Wavertree, who, as Colonel Hall Walker, occupied a unique position as one of Great Britain's outstanding breeders of great thoroughbreds. He was the guest of Hall C. Chiene, judge for the British Columbia Racing Association, and himself a well-known lover of horseflesh. It was Lord Wavertree who recently presented his famous stud in Ireland to the nation. Some of the most noted thoroughbreds in the racing world were bred on the Wavertree estates, which were included in this magnificent gift. There was so much red tape over the acceptance that Lord Wavertree had decided to dispose of the lot by auction, and famous English horseowners were on hand with unlimited resources of purchase when word came through that the Wavertree offer had been accepted.

Knight Hawk, a famous runner; All White, groomed for the Grand National, and Royal Lancer were just a few of the celebrated thoroughbreds on the Wavertree farm.

W. B. Ritchie, attorney and well-known old-timer of Port Angeles, with Mrs. Ritchie, is paying one of his periodical visits to Victoria, where he has many friends. He is staying at the Dominion.

VISITING FAIR

W. S. Wainwright of the Alcazar Hotel, Vancouver, is over for the Provincial Fair and is registered at the Dominion. Mr. Wainwright is looking over the Jerseys, having been a big prize winner in this class at previous fairs.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Burgess of Alert Bay are spending a holiday in the city, with headquarters at the Dominion Hotel.

Mrs. T. S. Orr of Valpariso, Fla., is a visitor at the Dominion.

The State of Washington has contributed to the heavy registration at the Strathcona Hotel. Oregon, Illinois, New York, Texas and Colorado also send their quota of guests.

Dai Thomas, formerly of Victoria, who left this city some years ago and has since become well-known in financial circles in Vaucouver, is spending a few days here. He is accompanied by Mrs. Dai Thomas and their children. They are registered at the Strathcona.

Fifty visitors from the East United States, visiting Victoria on a Raymond Whitcomb tour, saw Victoria and its environs by tallyho to-day between boats, proceeding to Seattle.

MINISTERS BACK HERE CONFIDENT

Pattullo and Sutherland Expect Gray's Election at Polls To-day

Greatly encouraged by the evident strength of Wells Gray, Liberal candidate in the New Westminster by-election, under way to-day, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, and Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, returned here this morning from the seat of provincial political war.

Both Ministers said they were confident Mr. Gray would be returned by the votes cast at the polls to-day. The large crowd at Mr. Gray's final rally last night was regarded as an indication of his growing strength.

Premier MacLean remained on the Mainland, but will return here to-morrow morning.

PLANS ISLAND TRIP

Mr. Pattullo will make an expedition to Mount Edward near Buttles Lake with P. P. J. Harrison, M.P.P., for Comox, this week, to see the country there. Mr. Pattullo is anxious to examine some territory just outside the boundary of Strathcona Park.

The Minister of Lands intends to visit Prince Rupert, his own constituency, shortly, while Attorney-General Manson expects to resume the northern tour which was interrupted in July by the caucus of Liberal Members in Victoria.

CONFERENCE WILL BE OF PRACTICAL VALUE

merce from Australia, India, Philippines, China, Japan, Central and South America and Canada. Delegates needing advice on specific problems will be given the benefit of the trade commissioner's experience and research. S. H. Blalock, district director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Seattle, is organizing this feature of the convention.

Among the prominent United States citizens who will attend are James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation and chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council; Warren F. Purdy, assistant to A. C. Dalton, president of the United States Merchant Fleet Corporation; Royal S. Copeland, U.S. Senator from New York; John W. Summers, U.S. Congressman from the State of Washington; A. M. Free, U.S. Congressman from California.

C.N.R. EARNINGS

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ended August 14, 1927, were $4,877,575.00, as compared with $4,682,153.35 for the same week of 1926, an increase of $195,411.65, or four per cent.

On the Blotter

Alfred Cornwell, who went to the city detective office the day before yesterday and asked for a job because his father was in hospital and his mother and three little brothers and sisters needed help, got a position the very next day. The Dominion Employment Agency got in touch with police headquarters and placed young Cornwell, fifteen years old, without difficulty. He went smilingly to work, a boy breadwinner for a family.

Nearly six months ago Sergt. Blackstock adopted a stray cat from Chinatown and brought it to police headquarters. Eventually that cat found its way to Constable Arthur Bishop's home and was the playmate of his six children.

It came to a miserable end, however, for falling into the hands of a vicious youth of the neighborhood it was hanged by the neck over the Point Ellice bridge. The boy was subsequently sent to a reform school. This week, there was another kitten, emaciated and dirty, hanging around headquarters.

Sergt. Thomas Hall returned from a three weeks' vacation yesterday. He traveled as far east as Ottawa. Samuel Waldron, engineer at headquarters, and guardian of the coal cellar, has also returned from a vacation trip.

Constable George Claire has a unique duty to perform. One of his tasks is to prevent young boys from lighting grass fires on the Songhees Industrial Reserve. Recently it has been the sport of gangs of boys to set these fires and then report them to the fire hall, and with yells of delight watch the red engines roar to the scene of the blaze.

It is a dangerous sport, and Constable Claire has been delegated to stamp it out.

Previously Cochet has beaten Ohta in straight sets, so that France holds a lead of two matches in the series with Japan. The winner meets the United States in the challenge round of the Davis Cup series. France is favored to win this round easily.

RATEPAYERS BOOST PLAN

Voluntary System of Tax Prepayment Shows Material Growth in Subscribers

Ratepayers Reduced Tax Bills By $13,903 on Incompleted Returns For Early Payment

Settling their tax bills in full or in part in advance of due date, 2,400 ratepayers of the city have deducted $13,903 from the amount of their bills to date this year under the voluntary prepaid tax plan. The returns are still incomplete.

Approximately $500,000 has been paid into the city treasury under the plan, which shuts down automatically in regard to interest sums rebated from the amount of the bills after August 31. The due date of tax collection is August 15. The penalty additions for non-payment commence on September 30 this year.

The voluntary system of tax prepayment drew increasing numbers this year, between 300 and 400 new names being added to the books by those who decided to deal with their annual civic tax bills in this way. Of a total of 2,400 peple using the scheme, 792 have paid their taxes in full, some as early as January in the year; and 1,600 have been paying on the instalment plan, depositing each month a sum that they could afford.

Last year, taking the full period into account, 2,100 ratepayers subscribed to the plan, which was originated by Edwin C. Smith, City Treasurer, five years ago, and which has proved a popular innovation. The gain in numbers this year is equivalent to 14 per cent at this date, compared with the same period last year.

The operation of the scheme gives the city exchequer a cash fund at the first of the year from which to meet payments occurring in the early months. The interest sums earned by the ratepayers are taken from the amount of the tax bills, instead of being paid, as formerly, to the bank on borrowed money.

The plan led this year to the reduction of the city's standing credit at the bank by $350,000, with ratepayers receiving the benefit of the heaviest part of the interest paid by the city for money on which to pay its way in the first six months of the year.

MINERS STILL WORK OLD-TIME DIGGINGS

Prospector of Leachtown Tells How Bear Robbed His Larder

There are about a score of prospectors and talc miners now camped in the vicinity of Leechtown, according to E. Throup of Sooke.

While the former are washing pay dirt in their sluice boxes the latter have the talc mine going "full blast."

The old log residence of the Governor of the colony, who went to Leech River with the stampede of miners is now a ruin, says Mr. Throup.

One prospector, when entering camp recently, according to Throup surprised a half grown bear helping itself to his fresh meat. When it was disturbed the animal immediately made off.

There are hundreds of deer in the back country and many of them wander along the C.N.R. line, says Throup.

Favorite Hurdles Fence and Outsider Romps Home To Win

Cacambo Gallops Home at Willows to Pay Best Prices of Meet This Week

Straight Price Was $33.05, While Kate Wilson, Who Placed, Paid $25.50

Willows Race Track, Aug. 25.—Thrills galore were saved up for the fans in the fifth race here yesterday. After several days of short prices the ponies did their capers in this event, a five-furlong dash, and some nice returns were posted.

Seven horses went to the barrier in the fifth race with Sanguine as a top-heavy favorite. Balentine, the leading jockey at the meet, had a leg up and the fans looked for him to give his mount a capable ride. Sanguine had the rail position and no sooner was the "gate" sprung than the chestnut filly thought it was a steeplechase, and proceeded to leap the rail. This put the horse out of the running and left the field open for the longshots to come through.

WON BY TWO LENGTHS

Cacambo, with Matthews up, drew into the lead after half the distance had been run and had no trouble winning by two lengths. Kate Wilson came through with a great burst of speed in the second half, moving up from fourth place and making a game effort to catch the flying leader. Kate Wilson started at 56 to 1 and would have provided a real sensation had she romped home in the lead.

All the prices in this race were good. Cacambo's prices were $31.05 to win; $16.20 to place and $6.85. Kate Wilson's prices were $25.50 and $9.95. Ticklish, the third horse, showed at $7.10.

BALENTINE STARTS WELL

Jockey Balentine got off to another win in the first race, bringing Lawrence under the wire with half a length to spare. Lawrence was third choice and paid $6.65 to win. Pharabe Ann, the tricky little mare from the Riverview Stable, was the public choice for the race, but after opening up a wide gap she ran wide on the turn and tired going to the wire, finishing fourth. Judge Pryor was second favorite and, piloted by J. R. Kelly, easily picked up second honors. Dr. Hall closed with a fast rush to get in the show money.

Tulameen Kid led the parade in the second race and won by four lengths pulling up. Miss Gay was second and Royal Irish third. Immediately after the break the ponies took up their positions in line in this event and continued in the same order throughout. There were several lengths between each horse at the finish. The first three horses were all well backed, and only the straight price on Tulameen Kid was out of the $2.00 class. It was Balentine's second winner in a row.

NO FOOLING THIS TIME

The public was caught napping Tuesday when Silex II got a place in the first race and paid $16.95, but they were not to be fooled again, and had their money on this pony for the third race. When he raced home to win by two lengths, the betters got back a little better than even money, the straight price being $4.50. In his usual style Silex II. came from behind after going half a mile and won with plenty to spare. Fair Fancy lead for a great part of the distance and was good enough for the place. Sun Turret, the second choice, ran in third place all the way.

Fair Fancy returned $10.70 for every $2 put on him to place.

FAVORITE WINS EASILY

The fourth race was also a favorite's race, Yorkshire Maid getting under first by two and a half lengths. Ridden by J. R. Kelly, she was always within reach of Mickey Hagen who set the pace. The Maid took the lead at the three-quarter post to win handily. Ben Nevis was second and Alberta Lad third, Ping Pong, who has shown fine form lately, was favored to win by many of the bettors and went to the post third favorite. The large impost of 122 pounds which he was carrying was too much, however, and he finished last, eight lengths in the rear of the fifth horse. Mickey Hagen was a 19 to 1 shot and gave the fans a thrill when he led for the first half. He tired badly toward the finish and came home in fourth position. Alberta Lad, the second choice, might have shown better than third but he was carried wide at the first turn and lost considerable ground.

Getting up in the last stride, Fleer, the favorite in the sixth race, got the decision by a neck from Fullanti. It was Balentine's third winner of the day and he rode hard to get his horse home. Fullanti set a telling pace and opened up a gap of four lengths at the three-quarter mark. His efforts, however, were too much for him, and he tired in the stretch, allowing Fleer to overtake him. Vineyard, the second choice, ran a steady race to take third position. Dolly Day showed a flash of speed soon after the break, but failed to hold it under the telling pace of the leaders.

Montdale picked off the concluding race over a mile and seventy yards. Jay Roberts was second and Daytime third.

New York, Aug. 25. — Harry Payne Whitney's Whiskery, winner of this year's Kentucky Derby, was an easy victor yesterday in the Huron Handicap, mile and three-sixteenths, feature at Saratoga. J. E. Widener's Kiev was second and the Sago Stable's Rip Rap third. The time was 1.59 2-5 and the race carried a net value of $3,800. Whiskery won by three lengths and Kiev took the place by a length.

Pickle galloped home ahead of a field of seven to win the fourth race at Beulah Park. Galiano was second and Rose Stark third. The time was 1.14 4-5.

Solo topped the field in the feature at Kenilworth, doing the mile and seventy yards in 1.51. Dark Angel gained the place over John W. Weber.

COCHET DEFEATS OHTA IN OPENING DAVIS CUP MATCH

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 25.—Henri Cochet of France easily defeated Yoshiro Ohta of Japan, 6-0, in the first set of the opening match in the Davis Cup inter-zone finals at the Longwood Cricket Courts, here to-day. Lacoste was pressed at no time. He played easily and capitalized on Ohta's errors. The Japanese player found the net repeatdly and overdrove the lines.

Cochet also took the second set 6-3.

Ohta took his first service of the match in the third set and seemed to tighten from then on. Cochet's skill on placements and several nearly impossible gets gave him the set. The ninth game went to Deuce seven times on Ohta's service, but he could not hold it and dropped the final point on a hard placement by Cochet.

Yankees Come Out Of Slump and Beat Fast-moving Tigers

Lazzeri Lifts Ball Out of Lot With Bases Full and Decides Issue

Chicago Cubs Split Even With Phillies and Remain in Top Place

The Yankees have come out of a slump at a very opportune moment. After a poor showing against some of the second division clubs they applied pressure yesterday in the climax to stop a thirteen-game winning streak over the Detroit Tigers. The score was 9-5, and the manner in which the victory was achieved was a sensation in itself. With the bases filled and the score tied, Tony Lazeri hit the ball over the fence. Gehrig made two doubles and Ruth went hitless.

The White Sox beat Boston 4-3 and Washington lost to Cleveland 7-1.

Rube Walberg stopped the St. Louis Browns after they had won six games in a row. The Philadelphia speedball thrower hit out a homer in the sixth, sending his team into the lead. The Mackmen won 5-4.

AN EVEN BREAK

The Chicago Cubs could do no better than an even break in their doubleheader with the tailend Phillies, but they continued their 2½ game lead in the National League. The Cubs finished their half of the ninth, in the first game, with a lead of six to two, but Blake immediately lost his effectiveness. Sand drove in the winning run, the Phillies winning 7-6. Chicago started off the second game with a six-run bombardment on Sweetland that eventually ended in a 13-1 victory.

Pittsburgh and the Boston Braves were idle in Boston through rain.

Former Local Girl Wins Initial Long Swim In Vancouver

Mrs. Knight, Formerly Gracie Wellburn, Outstrips Big Field; Swam Easily

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—Using a steady trudgeon stroke which enabled her to secure a commanding lead on her competitors before the final spurt, Mrs. Grace Knight, Vancouver, formerly Miss Gracie Wellburn of Victoria, captured the Marples Trophy, emblematic of The Morning Star's first annual trans-Burrard Inlet swim championship from a field of twenty-nine competitors last night.

Mrs. Knight, covered the two and a quarter miles in one hour sixteen minutes and forty-five seconds, Percy Norman, one of the most prominent members of the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club, finished second, 100 yards behind the winner. The race was swum under trying weather conditions.

The feminine sex proved once more to be the "deadlier sex." Of the eleven who finished the distance eight were women.

Johnny Bailey sprinted into the lead at the start and was followed closely by Mrs. Knight and Maisie Lyons. The rest of the field was bunched for the first half mile and the flotilla of rowboats and swimmers made a pretty sight as they splashed along through the waters of the inlet.

It was not long before the field was well strung out. The field was narrowing down gradually as one swimmer after another was hauled out of the water. Mrs. Knight did not wander on her course and had an advantage over the remainder of the field. The winner swam with no noticeable effort and it was a delight to see her move through the water. She was quite fresh when she left the water and did not need any assistance on getting up the ladder. Norman finished three minutes later.

Connie Gover finished strong to get third. Gwen Clay came in with her. Maisie Lyons and Mrs. Hepburn staged a thrilling duel when they battled for fifth position. Maisie won by about two strokes.

Weissmuller Moves Fast at Honolulu

Honolulu, Aug. 25.—Johnny Weissmuller of the Illinois Athletic Club set a mark of 58 seconds flat for the 100-metre free style swim in the first event last night at the opening of the National A.A.U. outdoor swimming championships here.

British Bowlers Win

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—In a six-match competition, the touring British lawn bowlers triumphed over representative of Winnipeg clubs yesterday, marking up a thirty-one-point victory. The scores were: Visitors 133, Locals 102.

The British won four of the six matches after a brilliant display of the Summer pastime.

EXTRA POUNDAGE VISIBLE ON JACK; GENE WORKS EASY

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Jack Dempsey's extra poundage was visible at Lincoln Field camp yesterday, but he perspired freely and appeared well pleased after the day's work.

A Wisconsin lumberjack, Leo Popple of Stevens Point, gave the former heavyweight champion a workout on the mat, wrestling a few rounds with Dempsey.

Speculator, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Jimmy Bronson, one of Gene Tunney's handlers, while he was fighting with the marine crops in France, will be in the champion's corner when he meets Jack Dempsey at Chicago.

Aside from seven miles on the road, the champion took things easy yesterday.

Hudson's Bay Lose Match and Chances To Win Title Pass

Tracy-Verrall Eleven Spring Surprise in Wednesday Cricket League

When the Tracy-Verrall eleven sprang a surprise yesterday by defeating the Hudson's Bay the last chance of the latter to win the Wednesday Cricket League went a-glimmering. The Bays led the league for a time at the start of the season and recently have been pushing the Tillicums hard for first place. The reverse, yesterday, was unexpected and ended their chances of lifting the championship.

The Tracy-Verrall team won the match by 73-41. The batsmen on both sides were at the mercy of the bowlers. The Bays' total was one of the smallest of the season.

The other match scheduled in the Wednesday League between the Tillicums and Five C's was postponed on account of the condition of the pitch.

Softball

Games to be played to-morrow in the "D" Section of the Softball League are as follows:

Navy vs. Hudson's Bay, at Central Park lower diamond.

U.C.T. vs. Wilson Brothers, at Central Park, upper diamond.

This section will be finished this week, and next week teams in the various sections will commence their play-off series for the championships.

Veteran Chops Off Von Elm's Head and Youth Forces Jones

Thrilling Matches in Opening Rounds of U.S. Amateur Golf Championship

Champion Falls Before Legg; Jones Just Squeezed Through Match

Minneapolis, Aug. 25.—Bobby Jones scintillated to-day in the third match round of the amateur golf championship at Minikahda, and, despite a misadventure at the first hole, where he hooked his drive and injured a spectator, scored 68, or four under par to gain a lead of eight up over no less a star than Jimmy Johnson of the home club.

Jones came home in 33, four under par, after going out in perfect figures. Johnston, although shooting fair golf, seemed almost ridiculously bad under the hammering Jones gave him.

Minneapolis, Aug. 25.—Elimination of George von Elm, the champion, and an escape for a former champion, much too close for the comfort and peace of mind of Bobby Jones, left followers of the national amateur golf championship in a stunned condition last night as the field was reduced to eight survivors.

The experts had expected a light touch of fever in the two eighteen-hole matches yesterday, but they were not prepared for a stroke of paralysis.

Harry Legg, veteran Minneapolis player, chopped off von Elm's head on the eighteenth green to win one up in the second round, while Maurice McCarthy, golfing son of a golfing father, threw the scare of his life into Bobby Jones in the morning session.

JONES PERTURBED

The former champion went to the sixteen green, one down to his young opponent, after waiting for the crack which had not appeared in six halved holes of the second nine. The collegian finally slipped and Bobby won, two up, but he admitted he was greatly perturbed during the exciting round.

Two other former champions emerged from their two rounds with victories. Chick Evans and Francis Ouimet, the latter putting out another former titleholder, Max Marston.

To-day in the thirty-six-hole quarter finals, Jones meets Jimmy Johnston, the best golfer in the Twin Cities. Evans clashes with Eddie Held; Ouimet goes against Phillips Finlay, and Roland Mackenzie opposes Harry Legg.

The chances of the two former champions repeating were somewhat involved for Held is not regarded as a setup for Evans, and if Jones and Ouimet win they will oppose each other in the semi-finals Friday.

Jimmy Johnston whose real name is Harrison R. Johnston, has performed unbelievable golfing chores around the Minikahda course, where the tournament is being played, and there were any number of people here to-day who admitted a confident belief that he can "take" the great Bobby himself.

WON ON EXTRA HOLES

Roland Mackenzie, Washington, had to work harder than any of his fellows yesterday. He won from George Thomas, Chicago railway clerk, at nineteen holes, in the morning, and had to go an extra hole in the afternoon to dispose of Dave Martin of Los Angeles.

Legg reached the quarter finals after downing Rudy Knepper and von Elm.

Evans defeated Ellsworth Augustus of Cleveland and Allen Moser of Los Angeles, while Held won from Dexter Cummings and Arthur Yates.

Ouimet's victories were scored over Billy Sixty of Milwaukee and Max Marston. Phillips Finlay stopped Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland and Clarke Corkran. Johnston won from Dick Jones and Don Carrock, and Jones turned back Maurice McCarthy and Eugene Homans.

VON ELM'S MASTER

Legg's victory over von Elm came after a sensational exhibition by the champion and his veteran opponent. Making the turn at the ninth two up, the champion saw his lead cut to nothing on the next two holes, when Legg scored birdies and then was forced to stand aside as the ten-times Minnesota champion reeled off another birdie to go ahead. He was never headed although von Elm cut the score to one, the ultimate result, by a rousing eagle three at the fourteenth.

Legg was consistency itself, never very far but always straight, and absolutely refusing to crack in the face of pressure. Von Elm did not lose his chance to retain the title without a bitter struggle and he applied all his golfing force.

George came down to the final green with a forlorn hope of a birdie to win the hole and carry the match into extra holes, but it was vain. The champion's mop of yellow hair was tousled and his face was grim and set. The unruffled Legg, who had just come to the green with a clever iron from a roadway continued serene. He calmly putted two feet from the hole and the golf king was dead for this year.

SLIPPED THROUGH TO WIN

Bobby Jones remained in the competition because he waited for his young opponent in the morning round to slip a bit. When Maurice finally cracked, the former champion was in the immediate vicinity as he was only one down, and he was able to seize the advantage and press it to the needed margin.

The Atlantan was standing by, however, only because he had made a marvelous putt on the thirteenth hole. With McCarthy hard by the hole for a certain par five, and Jones twelve feet away, the Atlantan sent his putt twisting and curling over the difficult landscape into the cup for the half.

The first six holes of the second nine were halved before McCarthy slipped at the sixteenth to take five. Bobby aquaring the match with a four and going ahead with another four at the seventeenth where the over-anxious Georgetown collegian sent his approach past the green.

Bobby won the home hole also but it was all over then, for he needed but a half and everyone, including McCarthy, knew that he could not be kept out of it. The match was technically won at the last hole, but it really was decided on the thirteenth when Bobby made his putt. If he had missed there he would have been two down and few believe he could have fought off an enthusiastic youngster with victory so close.

JONES WAS WORRIED

There was no disguising the fact that Bobby was worried. He knew early in the day that he was not quite on his game and could take few liberties with his opponent and get away with it. As he failed to break through the one-hole advantage held by McCarthy he grew grim and seemed to be thinking he could not stand another.

"I knew I had to make that putt at the thirteenth," he said. He was never very bad but he was not very good, measured by the Jones golfing yardstick.

McCarthy, who furnished the real fireworks of the morning, comes from a golfing family. His father, Maurice McCarthy, Sr., is a New York golf professional. An uncle, Eugene McCarthy, is a golf professional at Memphis, Tenn. and pioneer in southern golf, having played a prominent part in introduction of golf on an ambitious scale in South Carolina and Florida.

The summaries of yesterday's play were:

Knocked Down Three Times, Terris Comes Back and Wins Bout

Spectacular Fight Staged in Lightweight Class; McGraw Started Well

New York, Aug. 25.—Fighting up from a sensational first round in which he was knocked down three times, once for the count of nine, Sid Terris, New York contender for the lightweight championship, won a decision from Phil McGraw, Detroit, in their ten-round contest at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, last night.

The fight was fast throughout, both battlers taking terrific punishment. When they shook hands after the final bell both were dog tired. Terris had a cut over his left eye.

McGraw felled Terris in the first round with a left hook to the jaw a moment after apologizing to him for hitting him as they broke from a clinch. Terris struggled to his feet to take a right to the jaw, which kept him down for a count of seven. Back on his feet again, another right to the jaw sent him down for a count of five. He hung on for the rest of the round.

TERRIFIC BATTLE

In the second Terris came back to rock McGraw with numerous rights to the head. Through the next eight rounds it was a terrific battle, McGraw seemingly out on his feet several times.

The decision was booed a little, although the crowd had seemed to be with Terris.

One judge and the referee decided Terris was the victor, and the other judge gave his vote to McGraw. Some considered that winning last night's battle made Terris the logical contender for the lightweight crown of Sammy Mandell.

GAINED DECISION

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 25. — Young Johnny Burns, Oakland middleweight, took a ten-round decision over "Tiger" Thomas, Philadelphia negro, in the main event here last night.

Six British and One Dutch Player Oppose American Contingent

International Rivalry Reaches High Mark in Women's Tennis To-day

Forest Hills Will be Scene of Keen Matches; Britishers Doing Well

New York, Aug. 25.—International rivalry reached its high mark to-day in the women's tennis championship at Forest Hills tournament with seven of the eight matches in the third round involving American stars and invaders. Nine Americans, six British and one Dutch player composed the surviving field.

The native forces, headed by the tournament favorite, Miss Helen Wills and the defending champion, Mrs. Molla Mallory, faced formidable opposition in most of to-day's tests. Miss Wills was drawn against Mrs. John Hill, English covered court champion, who has dropped only one game to two opponents so far. Mrs. Mallory was drawn against another English star, Miss Gwenneth Sterry, who took a set from Miss Wills at Wimbledon. Miss Sterry won easily yesterday from Mrs Anna Fuller Hubbard of Edgewood.

FIRST MAJOR TEST

In the other British-American matches, Miss Betty Nuthall, sixteen-year-old English star, faces her first major test against Miss Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va.

Miss Eileen Bennet was bracketed with the eighteen-year-old Californian, Miss Helen Jacobs.

Miss E. H. Harvey was up against the third ranking American star, Miss Eleanor Goss, while Miss Joan Fry, second ranking British player, was a favorite over Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin.

Miss Koa Bouman, the Dutch champion, was bracketed with Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere of Boston.

Forest Hills, Aug. 25.—Smashing her way forward with irresistible power Miss Helen Wills conquered Mrs. Lillian Scharman Hesler of Brooklyn, former fourth ranking star, yesterday, and advanced another notch toward her goal the National women's tennis championship. She won by 6-0, 6-2.

Mrs. Mallory's play was rather erratic as she was extended to disposed of Mrs. William Endicott of Boston, 6-4, 6-4.

JOAN FRY PRESSED

Miss Joan Fry had her hands full for a time in the first set against the California youngster, Miss M. Gladman. Miss Fry was held even for the first eight games before she steadied and reeled off seven games in a row to remove all doubt of the outcome, the scores being 6-4, 6-2.

Mrs. Hill smothered Mrs. Muehel of New York, 6-0, 6-0, in shortest match of the day.

Miss Nuthall made short work of the Bermuda star, Miss Gladys Hutchins at 6-1, 6-3.

Miss Jacobs had no trouble disposing of Miss Elizabeth Hugus of Wheeling, Virginia, 6-1, 6-0.

Barnes Released

New York, Aug. 25.—Jess Barnes veteran right-handed pitcher, was released yesterday by the Brooklyn Nationals. He has signed with the Toledo club of the American Association for the rest of the season.

Barnes's release follows report of disagreement between him and the Brooklyn manager, Wilbert Robinson.

WILD HORSE FILM COMES TO COLUMBIA FOR REST OF WEEK

Seldom has fortune smiled on a newcomer in motion pictures with such a radiance as it has bestowed on Barbara Kent, 1927 Wampas Baby Star and leading lady of the human cast with Rex, king of wild horses, in "No Man's Law," Hal Roach-Pathe feature showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre. Her career, which was less than one year old at the completion of this picture, started in the way in which many picture careers have started, with but one out of twenty successful—via the prize winning contest route.

When announced the winner of a Santa Cruz, California, beauty contest, and almost simultaneously winner of the title of "Miss Hollywood" in a contest conducted by a Los Angeles newspaper, Barbara took these awards with a sensible grain of salt and realized that no cups or titles would make her a star. So she set to work to make the publicity worth while by diligent attention to the minor details of motion picture work.

MATHESON LANG SUFFERS ANOTHER PICTORIAL DEMISE

The screen villain appears to have little choice in the manner of death he will die, the whim of the scenarist, or the demands of the story entirely overriding his own preference. Hanged, quartered, shot, burnt or poisoned, it must be all the same to him. Not long ago Maurice Elvey burned Matheson Lang at the stake. Then he hanged him, although it appears that such a gay fellow as Guy Fawkes deserved a better fate.

Stoll's Cricklewood studios presented a busy aspect the morning the two burly ruffians presented their victim to the hangman. The crowd jeered the prisoner and jostled the guard, the producer's voice booming through a megaphone gave the cues, the cameras clicked merrily on, and the villain died the death the story called for. Guy Fawkes is showing this week at the Playhouse.

DIRECTOR PRAISED FOR WORK IN FILM PLAYING AT VARIETY

J. Leo Meehan, whose directorial work in "Mother," now showing at the Variety Theatre, is hailed as one of the finest bits of directing in years, has directed all of Gene Stratton-Porter's stories for the screen. He is a stickler for real types and his selection for this production is credited with being 100 per cent. Belle Bennett, as the mother; Crawford Kent as the father, and William Bakewell and Joyce Coad as the children are as if they stepped from the pages of Kathleen Norris's book, which suggested the story.

The same is true of the other roles in the picture, all of which goes far to make the screen play true to life.

FUNERAL OF PREMIER SHOWN IN PICTURES AT THE DOMINION

Shown on the screen this week at the Dominion, in natural colors, are the impressive pictures taken last Saturday of the funeral procession and ceremony of the late Hon. John Oliver. The remarkable photography and clearness of the pictures have been commented upon by many.

FIRST NATIONAL PICTURE SHOWING ON CAPITOL SCREEN

That oft-debated question of preference for blondes or brunettes is answered in Sam E. Rork's production, "The Prince of Headwaiters," for First National Pictures.

There is a slight partiality for blondes. Sixty of Hollywood's most beautiful and smart young women were employed in the cafe and lobby scenes in "The Prince of Headwaiters," now at the Capitol Theatre, and the count shows there were thirty-one blondes, twenty-seven brunettes and two red-heads.

That count does not include the principals, however. Priscilla Bonner is a brunette, Lilyan Tashman a blonde, Ann Rork a brunette, Cecilie Evans a red-head, Marion McDonald a brunette, and Nita Cavalier a blonde.

"The Prince of Headwaiters" is Jane Murfin's adaptation of Garrett Fort's Liberty Magazine story.

John Francis Dillon directed. Mr. Dillon also directed "Flaming Youth" with Colleen Moore.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre this week are, The Bennett Sisters, a clever trio of athletic young ladies, in a demonstration of boxing, wrestling and novel athletics, on the same bill are, A. Avard, the saxophone soloist de luxe, and Wm. Degan the eminent basso, who has been held over for another week in response to repeated demands from the patrons of this popular house. He will offer an entirely new programme of song selections.

OPERA COMIQUE IS COPIED IN SETS FOR SWANSON FILM

Exact duplicates of scenes from the historic Opera Comique in Paris are reproduced in "The Love of Sunya," Gloria Swanson's picture at the Dominion Theatre all week, but they were obtained only after much difficulty.

The scrip for "The Love of Sunya" called for scenes from the famous theatre. Several months before work was started in Miss Swanson's New York studio she sent Rene Hubert, her designer, to Paris to make motion pictures of the institution.

Owing to an official ruling, the director of the Opera Comique at first refused permission for any pictures to be made, but after a special appeal had been made to the Minister of Beaux Arts, Miss Swanson's representative was allowed to use a "still" camera.

The Opera Comique scenes in "The Love of Sunya" is used in the episode in which Miss Swanson plays the role of an opera singer. Several other well-known places in Paris, including the studio of Flora Schofield, the artist, and the Chateau de Madrid are reproduced. Mr. Hubert obtained photographs and motion pictures of these places and Hugo Ballin, the noted art director, utilized them in making his sets.

"THE SECRET GARDEN" AT CRYSTAL GARDEN TO-MORROW EVENING

"The Secret Garden," the dramatic gem to be produced at the Crystal Garden to-morrow evening, is a dramatized version of the famous book by Frances Hodgson Burnett and arranged for production by L. Bullock-Webster. The theme of the play, which is in four acts, has for its motif the rejuvenation of a neglected garden, and incidentally, the return to health and happiness of a little boy who has been regarded as a hopeless cripple from birth. At first the garden is portrayed overgrown with weeds but with the passing scenes a transformation takes place; the blossoming flowers carry a message of hope that ends with health and happiness. The cast comprises ten children and four adults, pupils of Major Bullock-Webster, director of the B.C. Dramatic School.

A musical programme by the Crystal Garden orchestra under the leadership of Wm Tickle will also be provided.

Free from corns
For the First time in Twenty years

Why despair of ridding yourself of corns? Here is a lady who had suffered 20 years. Eventually she tried Radox. She put a tablespoonful into a footbath and bathed her feet for a quarter of an hour. After a few times Radox enabled the corns to be lifted out, root and all. Have you got YOUR corns out with Radox yet? Read the letter:

"My husband and I find Radox Bath Salts a wonderful remedy for sore and tired feet and as a relief for corns. For the first time in 20 years I am free from corns. I attribute this to the prompt use of Radox. We already know Radox as a great remedy for rheumatism and stiffness, and are glad to repeat that it is just as satisfactory for corns."

9th April, 1927. (Mrs.) J. A. C.

When you dip your feet into a footbath containing Radox Bath Salts, the dead skin of the corn combines with the Radox Salts to form a protein salt of the actual corn itself. This protein salt dissolves in the water, and so softens the corn that it may be lifted out bodily. Radox does not affect the living skin, but dissolves the dead skin—the corn.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

Wall Street Journal's Review of To-day's Stock Market Over B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Leased Wire to The Victoria Times

New York, Aug. 25.—The afternoon edition of The Wall Street Journal says to-day: Speculative attention was centred to-day on a further vigorous advance in General Motors. Excited speculation for the rise in the old and new stock caused trading in these shares to expand to huge proportions.

At one stage it was evident that the public had the bit in its teeth, and was running away with the market in General Motors. This caused professional operators to launch a drive on the whole market in the belief that technical conditions were in a vulnerable state.

Bearish sentiment also received encouragement from additional slight curtailment of the Steel Corporation output. Aggressive short selling, coincident with rapid up bidding of specialties like Vulcan Detinning and Wright Aero, created a reverish condition in the general list during the early afternoon. However, the somewhat steadier tone was in evidence during the last hour under the influence of good demand for standard industrials like General Electric, Westinghouse and Steel. Interests sponsoring General Motors were said to have undiminished confidence regarding its market position. One prominent insider was quoted as saying the new shares would cross Steel before the end of the year. Atchison rose to the highest price of its history. Directors are expected to consider a substantial stock dividend at the September meeting. Barnsdall issues were under pressure. Selling was influenced by publication of the company's balance sheet as of June 30. This showed bank loans of $3,000,000 against none at the start of the year. Radio met good support, following trie early break on announcement of Mackay entering into radio communication fields.

Standard Gas was a leader of utilities, being actively traded in at above 64, compared with the high of the year of 65¼. Earnings for the year ended June 30 showed a good increase in the balance available for common, which was equal to $5.01 on the 1,238,969 number of shares outstanding, against $4.49 on 718,856 in the year to June 30, 1926.

Brokers' loans decreased $20,895,000.

New York, Aug. 25—Active buying of General Motors at high levels was market feature, accompanying its advance and investment demand for some of the prominent rails and standard industrial shares also accounted for a rallying tendency. However, heavy profit-taking was indulged in and pressure was in evidence on a number of special issues such as U.S Cast Iron Pipe and Radio Later buying activities were again resumed in the premier motor issues which had a steadying influence on the general market.

Some of the copper shares contended with realizing following a lowering in red metal prices to 13½ cents. Oil shares were easier, though the Pan-American issues showed an improved tone following publication of the semi-annual earning figures. Steel shares reflected realizing while some of the specialties were in supply as a result of special developments.

July earning figures published to-day showed little to enthuse over. The Baldwin meeting was reported as only a routine affair which accounted for pressure on the stock. Seminole area production showed a slight falling off.

The market at its present level may attract heavy realising of a temporary influence.

BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings here for the week ending August 25 amounted to $2,160,763, as compared with $1,896,833 for the corresponding period last year, it was announced to-day by the Victoria clearing house.

LISTLESSNESS KEYNOTE OF BOND MARKET TO-DAY

Sudden Influx of $100,000,000 in New Offerings Had Little Effect at New York

New York, Aug. 25.—Listlessness was the keynote of the bond market to-day and only a moderate volume of business was transacted. Prices held steady, well sustained by current easy money conditions, and the sudden influx of nearly $100,000,000 in new offerings apparently had little effect on the trade.

Rock Island refunding 4s were fairly active around their high price for the year, coincident with the announcement by the offering syndicate that the new $40,000,000 issue of Rock Island 4½s had been promptly oversubscribed. Canadian National Railways 4½s also attracted a few buyers at their previous best figures, and Baltimore and Ohio 5s repeated their peak prices of 104¾.

Julius Kayser 5½s resumed their recent advance on rather brisk demand, moving up fractionally to 103½ for the first time. Hudson Coal 5s also drew attention just under 98.

United States Government obligations were firm but dull.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co.)

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Wheat: The wheat market was steadier to-day, although mostly lower than the close yesterday. On the extreme dip prices were 1¼ down, but pressure was considerably lighter, and fair absorption by seaboard and commission houses brought the market back several times to the previous close, but met considerable offerings and the market eased off. Seaboard reported a large export business with sales estimated close to 2,000,000 bushels, and the pool confirmed an excellent foreign business. Liverpool closed 1⅞ to 2¼ lower, but was a shade firmer than due. Weather continues unsettled in Europe, and is very unfavorable for harvesting, and damage is reported as taking place to wheat that is cut and standing in the fields. Western Canada weather is almost perfect, and the crops are making rapid progress toward maturity, and wheat cutting will be fairly general in another week. Sentiment is mostly bearish, and there is a feeling that should another frost take place, even if severe, it would only reduce the quality rather than the quantity, and that it is beginning to lose its influence as a bull card.

The market has now had a decline of ten cents in the past two weeks, which has strengthened the technical position, and some reaction may be expected, especially should the foreigner come in for future supplies. However, new and enlarged buying is required if higher prices are to be obtained. The local cash market was quiet, and spreads on the toughs were from one to two cents lower, other grades being almost unchanged. Winnipeg futures closed ½ cent lower.

Coarse grains—There was excellent buying of both oats and rye to-day, with export business confirmed in oats, while foreigners were buying October rye for future delivery. Barley was rather dull, but a fair demand exists. Oats closed ⅜ to ½ higher, barley unchanged and rye about 1½ higher.

Flax—This market was quiet, and while a very ordinary demand exists there was no pressure to-day, and liquidation appears to have run its course. The market closed unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

(By B.C. Bond Corporation Ltd.)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 25.—Wheat—The wet weather which is still prevailing in Europe made our decline in wheat quite welcome to those countries which are in need of a prompt replenishment of stocks and so there was a good volume of export business on the break of yesterday and to-day.

September showed a tendency to gain slightly on the deferred months, due to buying credited to cash interests. A review of the Canadian situation by a leading authority in that country, while given a somewhat bearish construction, contained the usual reservations with regard to the lateness of the crop and consequently the possibility of delayed threshing That about 70 per cent of all grains will be ready to be cut by September 3 and other 30 per cent ready by the middle of September, leaves some doubt as to whether or not the surplus in that country this year will greatly exceed that of a year ago.

There are still dangers to late wheat, which apparently the foreign buyers are not willing to risk and even if he were willing to risk it, cannot wait for that wheat to come to market If any such demand is maintained for cash wheat as appeared to-day, the whole complexion of the market may be changed. Much still depends upon whether our share of the big demand, which must come to the country this year from Europe and other importing countries.

Corn—As is usual at this time of the year, bearish opinion prevails in the corn market. It was quite obvious at times to-day that the selling was in the nature of pressure pure and simple and that opinions, quite widely circulated, were not based on a general survey of the corn situation, but were predicted on small sections where the prospect was abnormal. We cannot see the present situation as a basis for a bearish campaign.

OUR SERIAL STORY

"The Wife & Co."

By LYLE HAMILTON

"That's because I like it here," said he, lighting one of the broken cigars that he seemed to favor. "It's thundering lonesome at home — big house with nobody in it to talk to. I get out as soon as I can."

"Do you get your own breakfasts?" asked the girl, curiously.

He laughed. "Moses, no! I've got a cook. Got a fellow who presses by clothes and shines my shoes and serves my meals. Got a woman who keeps the place neat. But since—" he held up his cigar and peeled a loose bit of wrapper from it—"I hope your marriage will be happy," he concluded, abruptly. "Mine was."

He walked into his office and closed the door.

Molly hung up her hat and coat, and when her desk was open, she moved toward the front door and lingered there.

The thin cashier was next to arrive, and he bestowed upon her a solemn wink, by way of greeting.

A minute later Brownell appeared. His portfolio was under his arm, and he was walking swiftly, with his head down.

"Hello, Bob," said Molly, as he pushed upon the swinging inner door that separated the vestibule from the main office.

"Good morning," he answered, quietly. Without hesitating he passed her, and at the same quick gait went to his own desk.

After a moment she followed him. "Are you angry with me, Bobsie?" she asked.

"Not angry," he said, moving some papers on his desk.

She leaned sidewise against the back of his chair. He was standing an arm's length from her, his eyes upon an order slip that he touched with his fingers.

"If you're not angry, why are you treating me this way?"

He lifted his eyes then, and faced her. "Molly, this is the place where I work. I've got to keep my mind on my business if I'm going to do it at all. We can't patch up quarrels here, in the daytime. Let's talk about it tonight, if there's anything to talk about."

She shrank away, deeply stricken, and slowly went back to her desk.

Half an hour later, when he left for his day's travels around town, and passed close to her, she did not raise her eyes.

CHAPTER IX

Instead of going home that evening for Brownell could find her, if she were at the flat—Molly took dinner by herself near the office, and then went to a moving picture show.

She sat, rigidly glaring at the screen, her arms folded and her red lips pressed into a thin line.

At nine-thirty, when she turned the latchkey in the door, Bob was not in sight. She was certain of it, for she looked carefully in every shadow.

In the morning she came to the office late, on purpose. A glance at Brownell's desk told her that he had been in, and had gone.

Her delayed arrival brought a brisk comment from Mr. Frazier, to which she made no reply. Not only then, but throughout the day she was unusually silent, refusing the invitation of one of the girls to go lunch, and occupying her noon hour with a thorough cleaning of the typewriter — which it did not need.

Brownell came into the office at two o'clock, on one of his rare afternoon visits. Molly went to the long row of tile cases and busily sorted letters, with her back to him, until he had finished his conference with Sticko and vanished through the door.

At night she ate alone again, and attended another picture show.

The most interesting quarrel, however, becomes tiresome in course of time.

On the third evening of her estrangement with Brownell, she remained at home, forlornly looking out the window into the darkness. She had tried to read a magazine, and had failed. The evening paper presented a large advertisement of a radio set, and she threw it into the wastebasket. A search of her dresser drawers in an effort to find something interesting to do, disclosed the strips of linen and the colored thread that she had hidden away, so a large lump arose in her throat and she hurriedly returned to the window and the dingily gloomy prospect outside.

The lights in the room were off now, and Molly herself was only a slightly blacker shadow against the deep charcoal grey of the night.

The bell in the hall outside gave three long peals and a short one.

She leaped to her feet, and snapping on the electric lamp, she rushed to the hall and pushed the button that opened the front door.

"Hello, Bobsie," she sang, over the edge of the stair.

"'Lo," he said cheerfully, from below.

He kissed her when he reached the top step, quite regardless of one of Molly's fellow - roomers who stood watching in the hall. Molly clung to his arm as they proceeded to her room.

"Brought something for you," said he.

"I'll bet it's darling," said she, hauling the heavy arm chair across the rug, for him to sit in. "What is it honey boy?"

He dropped his hat on the chair, and she picked up the battered piece of felt and held it close to her. From an inside pocket he produced a small package. She laid down the hat, and opened the parcel. A white box was inside the wrapping. "There!" said he.

She opened the lid of the little box. "Oh! Oh! Oh!" she cried, and hugged him. "Where did you ever find anything so beautiful?"

The box held a platinum ring with a bit of diamond in it, which Molly kissed as soon as she had finished kissing Brownell.

"Got it at the jeweler's," he said, unnecessarily—it would have been a very ignorant girl who couldn't guess where he got it. "Try it on and see if it fits."

"It's bee-yoo-tiful," she sighed, slipping it on to the third finger of her left hand.

It didn't fit, but that made no difference to either of them. It could be exchanged. Bob had made suitable arrangements with the jeweler, he told her.

Neither of them mentioned an agreement they had made, long before, that there should be no engagement ring. Molly had suggested, and Bob had concurred, after long argument, that it would be better to use the money as part of the five hundred dollars with which they would start married life. Their present happiness was too great to be disturbed by trifles.

"The darn thing's big enough to go on your thumb," said Brownell, fondly.

"It isn't a darned thing," she contradicted. "It's dear." She pressed the ring to her red lips. "But we'd better get one a tiny bit smaller, hadn't we, sweetheart? Shall we go at noon tomorrow?"

The young man's face fell. Molly, observing this, made hasty amendment. "How silly I am! Of course you can't go right in the middle of the day, when you're busy!"

"Sure, I'll go," he said.

"No, indeed. I won't let you. You mustn't be taking time from your work to humor a girl's notions, Bobsie. We'll go—we'll go—" She put her forefinger to her chin, and thought. The stores were closing at the very hour she herself got through work. "Honey! The girls get Saturday afternoons off at the office!"

"Yes," he said, "but that's when I make up my reports, and——"

She broke in with a laugh—a rather forced laugh, but bright enough nevertheless. "Bobsie boy, I guess we'll never get to do anything weekdays, together, will we? Not until evening, anyhow."

"It's the bunk," he said, "but it does look that way. Couldn't you go yourself and get the ring changed, Saturday?"

Her lips drooped. "I can, of course—but it does seem terrible not to have you with me."

His hands were on her shoulders, and now he opened his eyes in token of a new thought. "I'm full of prunes, Mollykins," said he. "I'm dumb, that's all—plain dumb! I can fill out my sales sheets and fix up my lists Friday night—I'll work late, and then I'll only have to put in a nhour after lunch Saturday. How's that?"

Molly heartily approved, and perching herself upon his lap she admired the ring, which she kept upon her thumb, and chattered about the subjects she had suppressed so hard in her own mind for three days past.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Funny Boat

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"Daddicums, do you want that old box?" asked Tooter one of the many little boy rabbits who had come with Uncle Wiggily to the shell cottage at the seashore. Tooter pointed one paw at a wooden box which had held some of the things Mr. and Mrs. Longears moved from their hollow stump bungalow.

"We are going to sink!" cried Tooter

"Why, no, Tooter, I don't want that box," Uncle Wiggily answered. "You may have it. But what are you going to do with it?"

"Thank you, Daddicums!" shouted Tooter as he caught up the box and hopped off with it. "I am going to blub—wub—dub—scub—" and the rest of what Tooter said seemed to be blown away by the wind. He hopped so fast, carrying the box his father had given him, that Uncle Wiggily could not understand what the little rabbit said.

"Tooter is up to some trick, I'm sure of that," said Mr. Longears to himself as he watched his little son hop down towards a place where the waves from the ocean flowed into a little cove. In this cove the water was not deep and the bunny children often played there.

"Yes, I am sure there is some sort of a trick," went on Uncle Wiggily as he saw Tooter meet his brothers Scooter, Bumble, Stumble and Fumble. "I had better go see that my boys do not get into trouble with that box. I wonder what they are going to do with it?"

Hopping down among the stunted pine trees and brown sand dunes toward the quiet little cove all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily heard merry shouts and laughter.

"Tooter and his brothers are having fun with that box," said the old rabbit gentleman.

A few minutes later, when Uncle Wiggily was nearer to the cove, he heard voices shouting:

"Help! Help! We are sinking! Help! We are shipwrecked!"

"That means trouble!" cried the nose twinkling bunny. "Tooter and his brothers are in trouble. I must help them!"

Reaching the top of a little sand dune, or hill, from which he could look down into the cove, Uncle Wiggily saw the little rabbit boys in the empty wooden box he had given Tooter. The rabbit boys had made a sort of boat from the box and were pushing themselves around the cove with long poles.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "You seem to be all right in your box-boat. Why are you calling for help?"

"Because our boat leaks and a lot of water is coming in and we are going to sink!" cried Tooter. "Please help up to get ashore!"

There was an old rope, off some fish net, in the sand near where Uncle Wiggily stood, and, holding one end of this rope in his paws, Uncle Wiggily tossed the other end to Tooter, who stood up in the box-boat, catching hold of the coils as they sailed over his head.

Then Uncle Wiggily pulled the rabbit boys in their leaky boat close to shore, in the shallow water where there was no danger of sinking. Tooter and his brothers were quite frightened.

"You should never go sailing in a leaky boat," said Uncle Wiggily.

"It didn't leak when it was on dry land," answered Tooter. "It was only when we shoved it into the water that it began to leak."

"Of course," chuckled Mr. Longears. "And you can't play boat with this box, for it is filled with cracks and holes and the water will leak in all the while."

"Then we can't have any fun playing sailor," said Fumble.

"Too bad!" said the other rabbit boys.

But just then a voice in the water spoke, saying:

"I'll give you boys a ride on my back, if you like, and I will not sink with you nor leak. All aboard!" With that a sea turtle whose shell was larger than a washtub paddled himself toward shore with his flippers and his funny little tail went around like the propeller of a steamer.

"Oh, what a funny boat!" cried Tooter.

"May we ride on the turtle's back, Daddicums?" asked Scooter.

"Since he has invited you, why you may," said the rabbit. And piling on the broad, safe back of the sea turtle the little rabbit boys had many fine rides around the cove. They pretended they were on a big steamship and they had lots of fun. And not a drop of water leaked in on them. Though when the turtle paddled very fast he made waves which splashed on Tooter and his brothers a little, but they only laughed at this. Last of all Uncle Wiggily was given a ride by himself and he liked it very much. And after that, every day the sea turtle took some of the bunnies for a trip about the cove on his back. And if the telephone doesn't wake up in the night to tell the toothbrush a bedtime story, I'll write for you next a tale about Uncle Wiggily's salt water taffy.

NEWSPAPER ATTACKS GOVERNOR FULLER

Rome, Aug. 25. — Dealing with the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti, The Impero of Rome makes an attack on "Fuller, the Puritan."

The Impero declares Governor Fuller of Massachusetts "placed himself outside the pale of humanity" by refusing clemency.

"We assert no tortures of the Inquisition exceeded that meted out by Fuller," the newspaper says. "Confronted with Fuller's crime, we feel degraded. Every one of us is morally worse than before the executions."

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

FRIDAY, AUGUST 26, 1927

Astrologers find this an uncertain day in planetary direction and they counsel caution in all important matters while this configuration prevails.

There is a rather threatening sign affecting farmers and all who till the lands. Dissatisfaction with Government restrictions as well as with unfavorable weather is indicated.

Under this direction of the stars there may be strikes and labor troubles of various sorts, although there is an aspect read as of special advantage to workers of every vocation.

The old continue under rather a sinister sway, making for the end of many noteworthy careers in art as well as in public life.

Although it may seem that few super-men and super-women are developing to take the place of those who are passing out of life, the seers declare that many brilliant minds are prepared for big service.

Great events are to demonstrate that this country has citizens equal to supreme emergencies, astrologers announce.

This is a fairly favorable sway for wooers, if they permit the mind to rule the heart.

Weddings to-day should be fortunate, especially in a worldly way, for the stars presage prosperity, even though it is Friday.

Contracts signed to-day should be lucky and actors may be assured that agreements made to-day will bring success.

This is an auspicious planetary government for all sorts of publicity and advertising. Newspapers and magazines will benefit.

Neptune is in a place which is believed to foreshadow many dubious schemes for obtaining money. Speculation should be avoided.

Much agitation regarding public enterprises for the building of bridges, hospitals and even fortifications may be expected.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of gain through friends who will open doors to wonderful opportunity.

Children born on this day are likely to be endowed with great charm of personality, strong character and power to attain sensational success.

Surprise Arrest Made in Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—Said to be the accomplice of George Scott, arrested on a charge of having broken into and entered the home of N. Croquet on Fourth Avenue West, Vancouver, and also charged with having committed an assault upon the tenant, a youth of juvenile age was arrested yesterday under peculiar circumstances

The suspect called at the traffic office at police headquarters to report a small accident, was recognized by a private individual as resembling the description given of the wanted man and was promptly placed under arrest. Three young girls who were with the youth were taken to the Juvenile Detention Home, where they will be held as material witnesses, it being alleged two of the three were with Scott and his companion on the morning of August 21, when the burglary and assault took place.

Vanzetti Strike In Mexico City

Mexico City, Aug. 25.—A one-hour general strike as a protest by Mexican organized labor against the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti in Massachusetts was widely observed in Mexico City from 11 o'clock to noon yesterday. Public automobile, street car and telephone services were suspended, and most of the factory workers abandoned operations.

A similar one-hour strike in the theatres and moving picture houses by all-night workers was carried out last night between 8 and 9 o'clock.

OUT OUR WAY

THE TINYMITES

By Mal Coonan

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites enjoyed their swing Said Clowny, "This is just the thing I'd like to do the live-long day. It puts me in a trance." Then Scouty shouted, "That may be, but this is lots of work for me. I think you'd better hop out now so I can have a chance."

Each Goofy Goo and Tinymite agreed that Scouty sure was right. He'd given them a lot of sport, and pushed to beat the band. So out they hopped, mid happy grin, and Scouty, shortly, jumped right in. He'd sit down in the swing a while, and then he'd bravely stand.

'Til almost noon they played this way and then the bunch heard Scouty say, "I've had enough. Please stop the swing. I fear that I'll fall out. I'm getting dizzy as can be. I'm going to jump. Look out for me." And, when he landed on the ground, there came a merry shout.

Said Clowny, "Say, I feel in trim. Let's all go down and have a swim. The little stream is right nearby! We'll race down to the shore. I love to play down in the sand. I think the wondrous waves are grand. I hope they're rolling high because I love to hear them roar."

So, off they started in a race and Coppy promptly set the pace. Wee Scouty lagged behind a while and then, with merry shout, he stepped ahead of all the bunch, which gave the happy band a hunch that he had learned the way to run when he was made a scout.

Just as they reached the sandy shore, they heard a loud and angry roar. "What's that?" yelled Clowny "I'll just bet it's going to spoil our run." And then they saw a big black bear, which gave them all a mighty scare. The bear began to chase them and the band began to run.

(A tree saves the Tinymites in the next story.)

"---don't hesitate, start treatments at once and be cured"

Such is the advice of this Victoria man who writes his personal testimony of the benefit he has received.

Victoria, B. C.,
August 12, 1927.

Dear Sir:—

I feel it is only fair to those who suffer that I should write you so that everyone should know the wonderful results that I have received through using the I-ON-A-CO Belt. My nerves were in a terrible shape, which affected my sleep, in fact, what with loss of sleep and general condition, it was a great effort of will to force myself through the day's work, and 'twas daily getting worse. Now, to speak truthfully, I had heard of your Belt, but supposed it was a treatment necessitating undressing and going to considerable trouble. But I was getting into such a state that I finally started on treatments, and much to my surprise I found what a simple, delightful treatment it was. I did not have to even take my coat off, and also there was neither jar nor shock. I took treatment for four weeks steadily and with all honesty can say I am absolutely cured. My nerves are quite normal and I sleep regularly every night for at least eight hours. My whole system is toned up and I feel better and more ambitious than I have for years. My advice to anyone in pain is, don't hesitate, start treatments at once and be cured.

You may publish this letter as you wish, and let others know what a wonderful remedy the I-ON-A-CO Belt is.

I enclose my card and will be glad to give my personal testimony to anyone.

Yours very truly,
H. G. G.

Forged Cheques Passed at Soo

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 25.—One of the cleverest cheque swindles ever manipulated against local merchants, and which it is believed have netted the maker, said to be a Vancouver, B.C., man, in the neighborhood of $1,000, came to light yesterday with the presentation of cheques to which the name of William Lightfoot was forged at local banks.

The cheques so far found total sixteen, all written on Imperial Bank paper. The amounts forged range from $30 to $35, and the cheques were taken by city merchants in the belief they were the man's pay cheques for the week. The man was employed here by Lightfoot, but has disappeared.
